Dear Community

We are very proud of the 1986-87 Montage. It symbolizes the Twenty-fifth year that Midpark High School has represented and served the Communities of Brook Park and Middleburg Heights. The school has graduated thousands of talented and well-educated citizens, many of whom have chosen to stay in the area.

It is my hope that as we start the next twenty-five years we can continue to represent our students, parents, and citizens of our school district well, and receive your much appreciated support.

Congratulations, Midpark!

Happy Birthday!

The major change I perceive between the 60's and now is that the students of the 60's seened to place more importance on their studies and were wiling to put forth the effort necessary to achheive sucess,despite this they were very involved in school and community activities. Many of the students today hold jobs,are not so involved in activities, and their rates are quite different from the "old days".

Coming to Midpark High School in the fall of 1963, was a major change from the rural high school I had just left in western Ohio. Midpark was very impressive with its new, modern building and sprawling campus.

There were many new challenges to be met by administrators, staff and students. These included not only classroom activities but also organizing athletic programs, student council, school emblems, flags, and extra curricular activities.

In 1963, there were 825 students and each staff member had his own classroom. This changed drastically by the 1970's, when the enrollment reached 2400 students. Social problems reached Midpark during the turbulent 70's as they did across the nation. Open campus, smoking, student rights and responsibilities, and a teacher strike took its toll on academic excellence. In Retrospect, Midpark has grown from the challenges and confrontations.

The 1960's seemed to be the golden age of education with a feeling of grat purpose, excitement, and fun. The 70's became years of turmoil and change. The 1980's are developing again, it seems, with a combination of the two previous decades.

Hopefully, those of us who have been here have left a positive affect on our students. For those who we leave behind, I am confident that our staff will continue to serve youth with the same dedication for and beyond the next 25 years. Olen Bittenger.

Twenty-five years, Midpark High School came into existence as a result of a split in the Berea School District. The students had planned together and made choices that are now accepted automatically. The efforts resulted in a speirit and determination that stimulated excellence in both academic and sport pursuits. Today, the school has grown and changed with the demands of a computer technology age. Althugh the students need even more education, they seem to reach out for it less. The excellence obtained by students then is stil the standard of students today.

One factor that is very evident in comparing Midpark of the 1980's to Midpark of the 1960's is that in the 1960's school was the center of the student's life. Students used school or Midpark for their social, athletic and intelluctual activities. In many ways Midpark High School was the only game in town that enabled a young adult to gain a positive self image, acheive goals and in general feel good about themselves.

Today, the story is very different. Our young people have many different activities that they consider more important than school. Jobs, cars and rock concerts have a higher priority for many of our students than Midpark High School.

HOMECOMING

THE TRADITION CONTINUES

It was up to the seniors. Two weeks before Homecoming, the seniors got to choose the lucky five girls to be on the Homecoming Court. Although the ballots were to be secret, by the end of the day three girls were known to be in the running. A week before the big day, the girl's names were announced to the school. The day before Homecoming, the Juniors and Seniors were given a chance to meet the girls in the auditorium during first period. Those who were unable to attend were able to listen to the introductions over the P.A. system. After seeing the court on Thursday, the whole student body voted for the queen in homeroom. The winner would be announced during half-time at that evenings football game.

Excitement began to build during the half-time ceremony when the 1986 Homecoming Court was escorted onto the football field by their parents. The court consisted of Jennine Grabowski, Joanna Neskey, Daniela Paunesky, Tina Schuller, and Vicki Wedo. Midpark's 25th Homecoming Queen, Daniela Paunesky, was crowned by the 1985 Homecoming Queen, Marie Vrabel. The evening's excitement continued as the mighty Meteors overwhelmed the crowd with a 42-6 victory over the Medina Bees.

On the evening after the homecoming game, a casual dance was held in honor of the Homecoming Court. A record-breaking crowd came to Midpark's cafeteria, which was transformed into a concert hall. The kids enjoyed dancing to their favorite hits played by a local band 'Passion Play'. Besides having the entertainment, the Homecoming Court was once again introduced, a little less formally than the night before. Mr. Meterko did the honors. This time Queen Daniela Pauneskey and her court, Jennine Grabowski, Joanna Neskey, TinaSchuller and Vicki Wedo, were escorted by Matt Casto, Greg Minch, Jim Sowinski Steve Kall, and Dave Steets. Everyone had a great evening, even Queen Daniela was spotted dancing to her favorite song. All in all, Midpark's 25th Homecoming Dance was a success.

Winter dance Goes on Without hitch

Even though the band didn't get to the dance, everyone at the Snowball on December 13, had an enjoyable time. It was a change to see everyone dressed up in their best clothes. Flashes went on and off throughout the evening as friends wanted to catch and keep this magical moment. This years theme was "Candy - Coated Christmas", and was it ever! Drama Club Starts Anew

This year's production of 'You Can't Take it With You,' was a great accomplihment for all of the talented students," said first year director Mr. Windgit. "I'm very impressed with the dedication of all the cast members."

This play is centered around the romance of Tony Kirby, played by Joe DiBello, and Alice, played by Kim Costa. The storyline has its ups and downs everywhere from getting arrested by the infamous J-man, to falling love.

Naturally, the ending is happy and the audience believed that you can indeed take it with you.

Special thrill MI-BRO-BE

It was amazing how the kids pull together for one week and work together," said Chris Kovach, senior resident of camp MI-BRO-BE.That's how most of the senior counselors from Midpark felf during their stay at the camp.

MI-BRO-BE is the most extensive school related camp in Ohio. It gives the students of the Berea City Schools the opportunity to attend a weekly overnight camp. Mr. Baldwin, originator of the camp, plans an extensive amount of activites for the kids, such as kikes, dances, skits, singing songs, and telling stories around campfires. There is no idle time.

It won't pour. One of the campers tries to tell senior Sherry Cwalinski that you have to take the cap off first.

Meteors gain Playoffs PC Champs

In 1966 it was written that the Midpark football team "...has established itself as a name in football. However, there are many pairs of shoes to be passed on and many helmet to be polished before Midpark establishes itself as a powerhouse on the football field." It is now 1986 and the Meteors have finally passed on enough shoes and polished enough helmets.

For the second year in a row, coach Tom Standring led the Metors to a 9-1 regular season, Pioneer Conference Championship, and the State Playoffs. For second straight year, Standring was named PC Coach of the Year. This year's team set a school record nine straight victories.

Jim Sowinski was named MVP of the Pioneer Conference. In addition, Sowinski was named recipient of the Greater Cleveland Touchdown Club's prestigious "Lou Groza" award, given to the top football player in Northern Ohio.

The season came to an end when the Meteors were eliminated from the playoffs by a powerfull St. Edward's team -- which eventually lost in the State Championship game in Columbus.

JV football Prepares self For future

Although not a terrific season, the junior varsity squad ended the seaon with a 5-5 record. The kids all worked and did quite well considering that most of the juniors who usually play on the junior varsity squad were taken up to the varsity squad. The team ended the season with a heart-breaking loss to Berea.

Part of this season's success can be traced back to the long hard hitting practces with the varsity squad during the summer and throughout the season.

The two teams worked together and it proved to be a valuable experience for both

Frosh team Takes lumps

This year's freshman football team had a tough year. The team ended their season with a 0-9 record. The team worked hard and gave each game a good try.

"At the beginning of the year many of these kids had never met each other, let alone played football together," commented head coach Tim Merritt.As the boys practiced, and began to know each other, improvement could be seen. By the time they are seniors, they should continue in the fine Midpark football tradition.

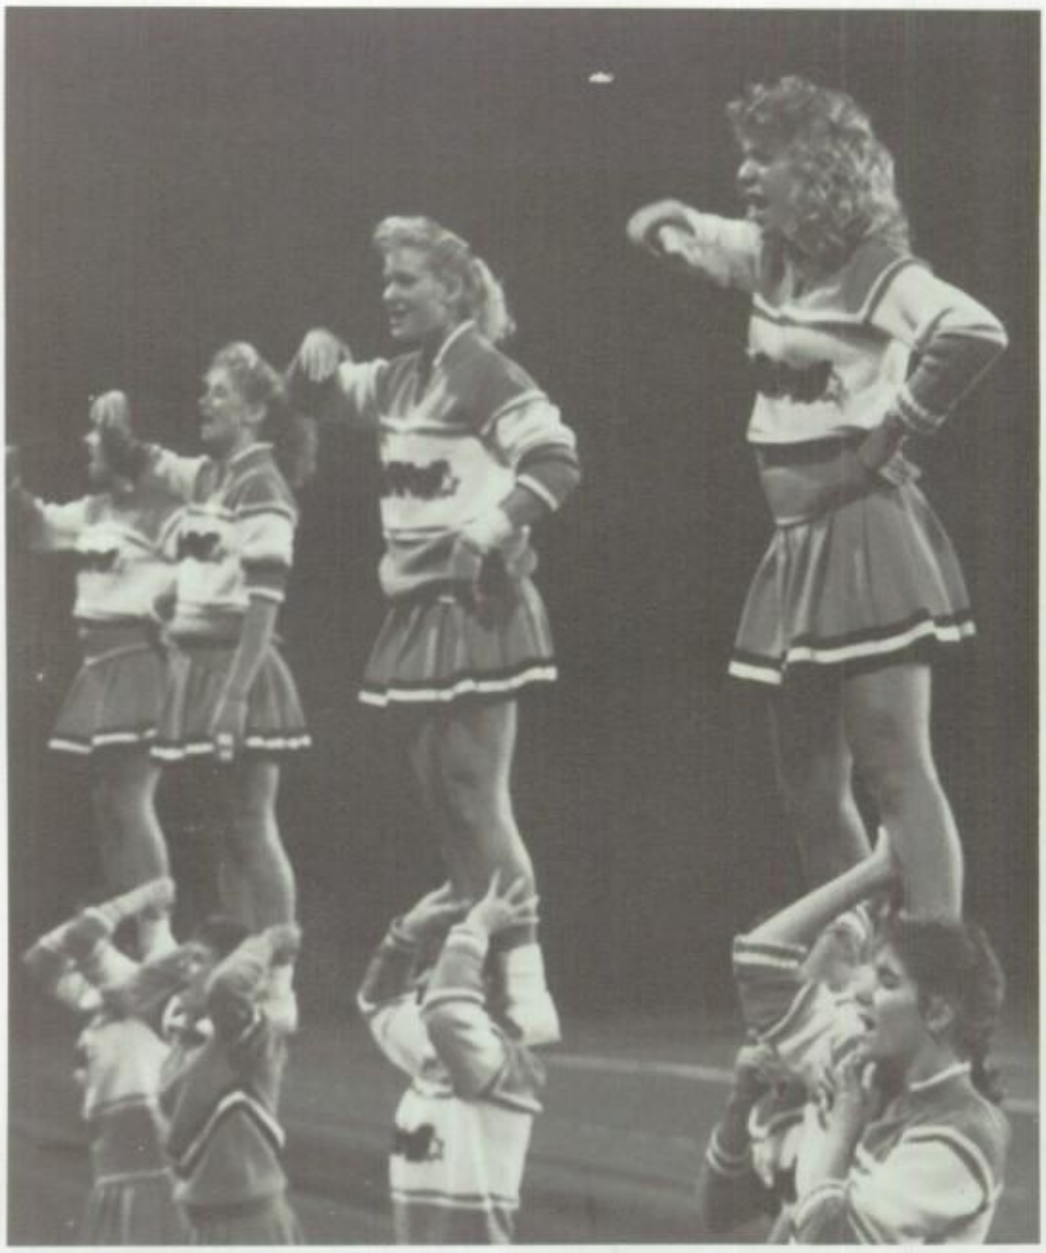
On the sidelines ten voices can be heard leading the cheers for thousands of people. The varsity squad, consisting of ten girls work together to make each cher outstanding. The junior varsity squad works as a unit in developing and executing their cheers. The freshman squad is equally enthusiastic.

In order to develop their cheering potential, the cheerleaders attend camps, workshops, and competition. Because of such activities, the cheerleaders won fist place in the Parmatown Cheerleading Competition.



We're number one. The varsity cheerleaders show that Midpark is number one.

Give me an 'M'. Here, junior varsity cheerleaders Michelle Young, Trisha Boloca, and Missy Casto lead everyone in a cheer at a pep rally.

We got soul.. The varsity squad shows the fans that they really do have soul.
I might as well jump. Missy Casto and Trisha Boloca show their enthusiasm on the sidelines.
M.H.S. YES, M.H.S. The freshmen squad shows that they have spirit too.

Get Set. The doubles team of Monica Somerville and Raeffala Montemarano prepare to return the serve.

Varsity netters Improve and Show Promise

Midpark's women's varsity tennis team posted a 11-11 record this year, making it the first time in three years that they were .500 or better. Still rebuilding, Coach Wolff hopes that next year will be even better. Graduated from this year's squad are captain, Tammy Giesel; Jan Krach; Monica Somerville; and Tina Benning. Returning to take on the foes next year are Tanya Ondercin, Raphaella Montemarano, Jodi Short, Sue Gestrich, from the varsiy squad.

Experience Takes over

Midpark's Varsity Soccer Team achieved their best season in three years. The Meteors finished their season with a 7-7-3 record. Mario Francescone, Mick Ruggiero, and Dave Banneoman were recongnized and nominated for The Sun Newspaper All-West Team. Mario Francescone was placed on the 1st team in the Pioneer Conference. He was also named most valuable player of the team. Mick Ruggiero and Jon Komar were placed on the 2nd team in the Pioneer Conference. Mick Ruggiero was the offensive leader of the team, and Jon Komar received the Coach's Award. The offensive goal leader was Vinko Kucinic, while Dave Banneroman was the defensive leader.Mike Hajek and Dave Banneroman receivedHonorable Mentions. Also, two school records were broken this year. Mick Ruggiero broke the school scoring record, and Dave Banneroman established a school record for saves in an individual game.

Coach Jerauld felt if was one of their best seasons. He feels that there was a better skill level seen in the players. With only three graduating seniors this year, he feels Midpark will play with more experienced team next year.

Jayvees Continue To improve

The Midpark Junior Varsity soccer team ended the '86 season with a 8-6-3 record. Levi Lambert lead the J.V. team with the most goals. Other outstanding athletes were Rob Perta, Mike Kovacocy, Bob Cuitic, Jay Gundlach and Dave Minut. Although this season had some losses, the improving J.V. soccer team is slowly becoming a power house.

Golf begins Rebuilding For Future

The 1986 varsity golf team, coached by Mr.Dan Roberts, and assisted by Mr Jim Pheneger, finished the season with a one and nineteen record. Although junior Jim Saiko was named sixth overall in the Pioneer Conference, a wrist injury disqualified him. Jim also missed going to the State Tournament by one stroke.

The highlight of the season was the team's 176-184 victory against the Pirates of Rocky River. Other team members included Chris Kovach, Eric Hefke, Steve Carvaines, Greg Macsay and Lee Dedrik. Although not teaching at Midpark this year, Mr. Roberts has coached the golf team since its beginning, twenty-five years ago.

"Now if you hit the ball here, the vector velocity surpasses..." says Jim Saiko as Ken Goldman, Chris Kovach and Eric Heffke eagerly look on.

Volleyball Begins To rebuild

The varsity volleyball team, in a rebuilding year, finished with an 8-15 season. "But the future looks promising," commented coach Patti Gatti, " because the team is only losing two seniors to graduation." Though they played well together, it was a very young and inexperienced team with three sophomores starting in the beginning of the season, and two more Kim Williams and Rosanda Cvitic joining the team in mid-year.

The team won their first match at sectionals, 15-6, 15-4 against Valley Forge and then suffered a disappointing loss, 13-15, 12-15, to Normandy in their second match.

Returning to the team next year will be Gayle Gallowitz, "best offensive player;" Barb Zeucha, "best defensive player;" and Karen Kovach, "most improved player." Graduating seniors include Ann Hovan, coach'saward recipient, and Darlene Wrable, most valuable player.

Young spikers Get better

Junior varsity volleyball, as a team, coached by Wendy Kral had a very good season, finishing with a 11-8 record. Even though they lost two of their starters, Kim Williams and Rosanda Cvitic to the varsity team during the middle of the year, the team still managed to sweep the season's series with Cloverleaf and North Royalton. In addition, the team split with Berea, Brunswick, and Medina.

Harriers have Long season

The 1986 Cross Country team had a very difficult season. Although they did not win any meets, they did win the last meet of the season. The last meet was a Preview Meet, and therefor, no seniors participated. The team did win in the Pioneer Conference and this was attributed to the fact that all the runners were younger, with a younger team, there are high hopes for nent season. Captain Jason Selong, a junior, was an outstanding runner and leader for the Cross Country team.

LIVING ON A PRAYER Freshman cheerleaders pray for their team's hopeful victory.

GIMME AN "M" Once again, the JV cheerleaders give it their all.

The Basketball cheerleaders remained enthusiastic throughout the season. With the help of their coach,Barb Atkinson,and many hours of practice, the girls spent time preparing cheers and making signs. Varsity captains Cathy Arfaras and Tammy Giesel watched over all the squads with words of encouragement. The basketball teams really appreciate all of the continuous support by the cheerleaders.

COME ON! Dana Plecety and Brenda Lincoln hope the team sinks the ball through the hoop.

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y An encouraging chant is provided by the varsity cheerleaders.

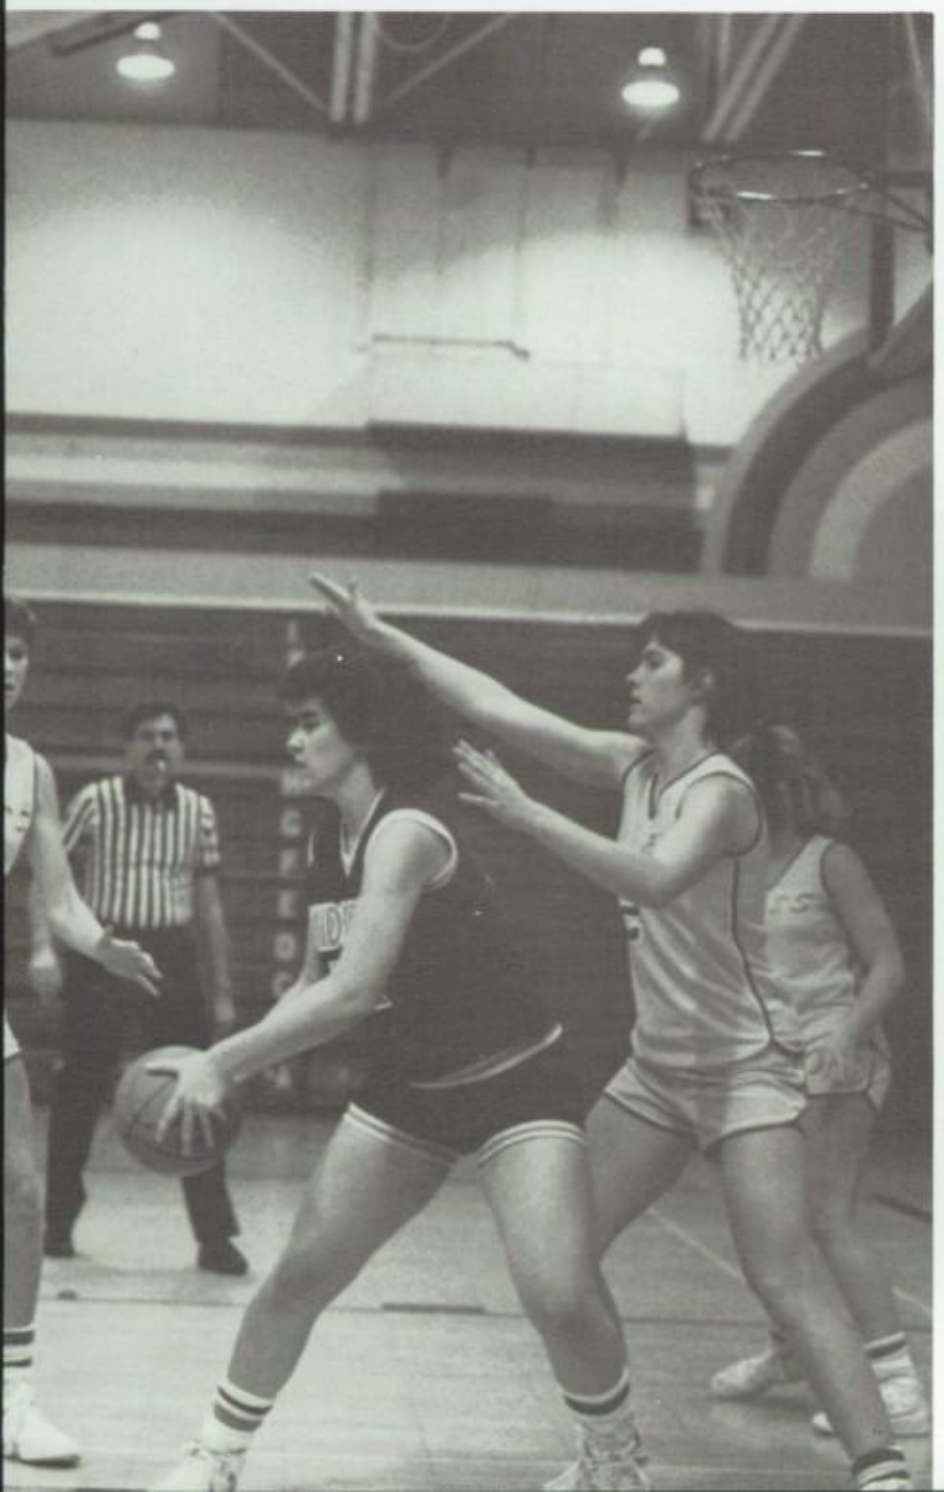
Women cagers Have new coach

With a new head coach at the helm, the Midpark girl's varsity basketball team opened this season with little experience. Only captain, Renee Zimmer, was a returning starter, while Mary Frances Cullinane and Ann Hovan saw limited action.

Though the team did not win a game, they did improve each game. Two school records were set, Karen Kovach tied the record for most consecutive foul shots made at 11, and the team set a foul shot record of 87.5% for a single game. As a whole the team shot 46% from the foul line up from previous years. Junior Gayle Gallowitz was named the Pioneer Conference Honorable Mention. Deeann Gainer was named defensive player of the year while Gallowitz topped the rebounding and foul shooting honors.

Next year, Coach Wolff hopes to improve upon the season, show continued improvement, and increase the size of the squad so that the girls are competitive among themselves.



Junior varsity Begins to win

Under junior varsity coach, Carol Wrabel, the junior varsity posted a 4-15 record on the season, improving with each game. Sophomore Kim Williams was named junior varsity MVP. With continued work and dedication, this squad could be the future for Midpark.

Get to the corner. Nora Carlin looks to pass off on the fast break.

Even though there was not an over abundamce of wrestlers this season, Midpark's wrestler's performed well in the Pioneer Conference. At the Brecksville Pioneer Conference Tournament, the varsity did a fine job. Randy Wendling took a 2nd place, Nick Dipierro took a 3rd, while Ron Hess, Frank Sayre, and Scott Nytrae took 4th place awards. The junior varsity did well also at their invitational tournament. Vince Bianchi and Bryan Kmetz took 2nd place awards, Mike Sahlica, Joe Agresta, Scott Nyetrae, and Ray Marotta took 3rd place awards. Bob Robinson took a 4th place, while Lou Rieneits, Matt Henderson, and Randy Wendling took 5th place awards. Themes. Bill Scherf and Gary Pieronick enjoy a laugh while writing their themes.

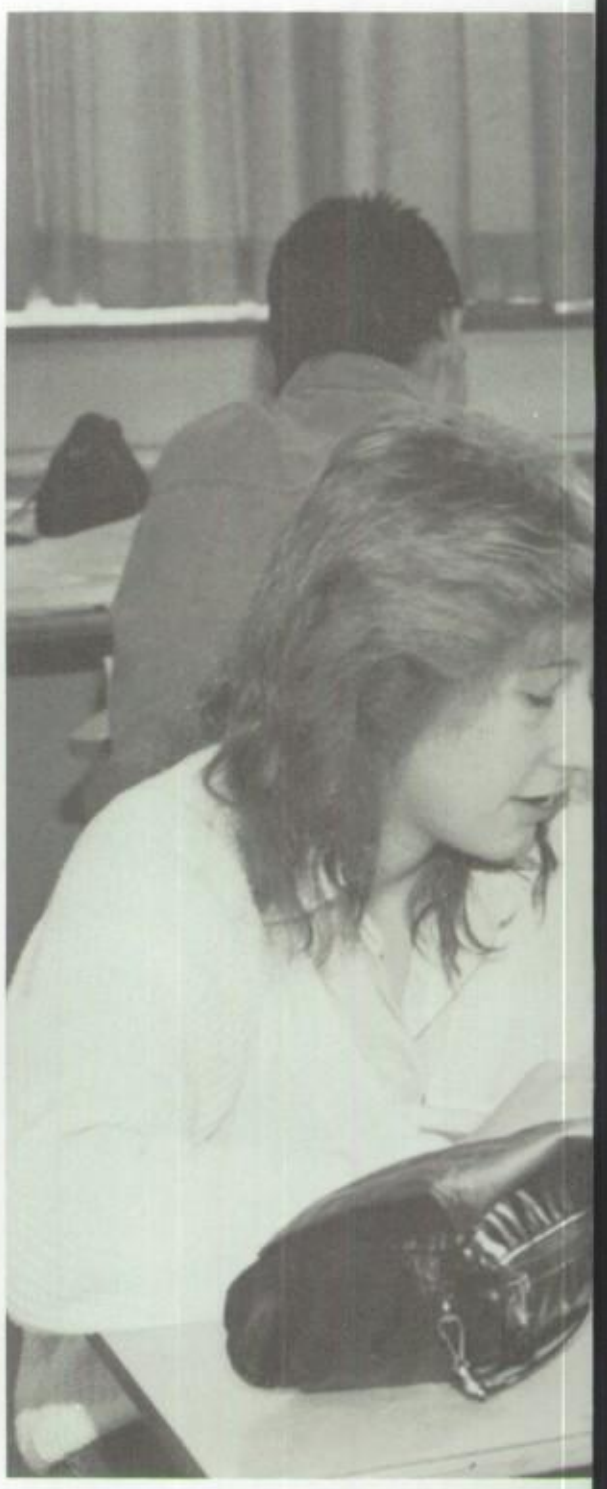
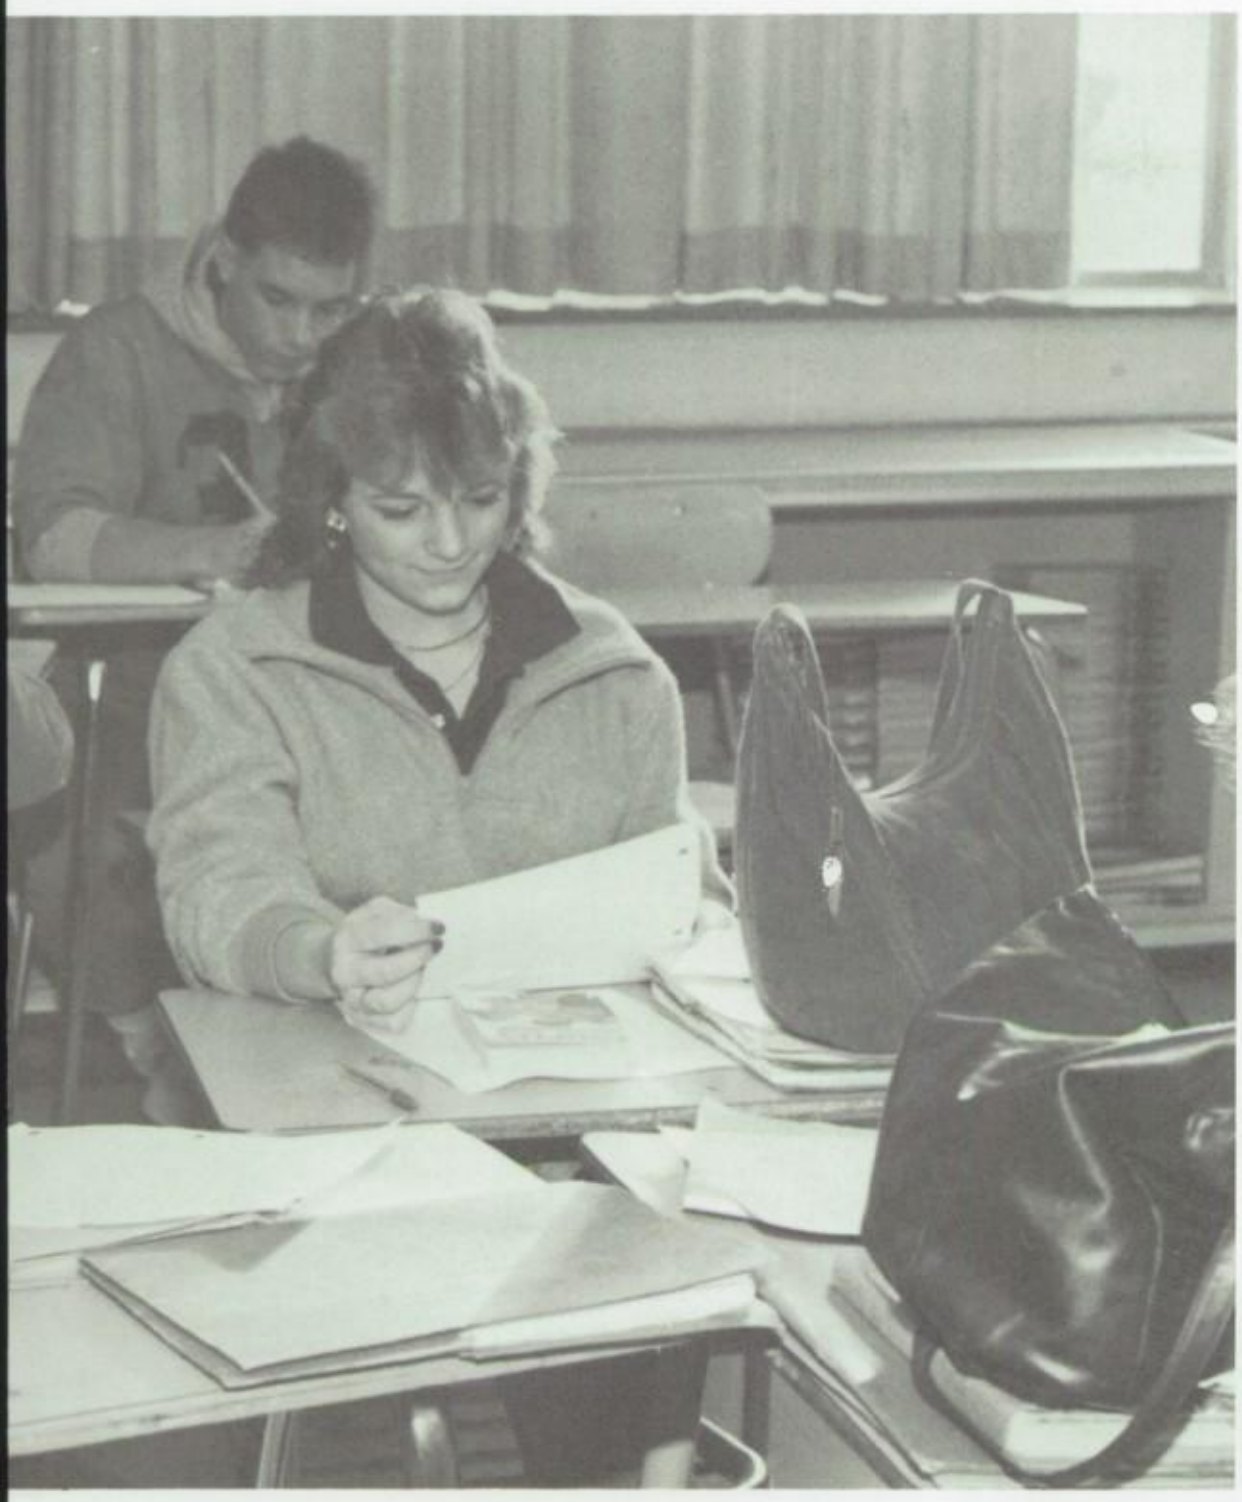
Group study is helpful. Heather Knecht, Al Gammon, and Tina Zebitowki all work together.



It's there somewhere. Tisha Goss searches for an answer while Debbie Sekinger and Mike Maier prepare their answers.

Media is the message. Joe Laszlo and Rhonda Mills review the bulletin board for news and reviews.



Everyone must know how to read, write, spead, and spell, and the people who are actively involved in helping students acquire these skill reside in room 147 -- the English Department. The department represents a variety of talented, educated, and enthusiastic teachers. They are involved with the students in all aspects of their education including extra-curricular activities like Acadeic Challenge, the debate team, the Monitor, and the Montage.

This year, the department welcomed Mr. Phillip Duddridge, their foreign exchage teacher from England. Taking Duddridge's place in England was Drama teacher, Tim Peebles.

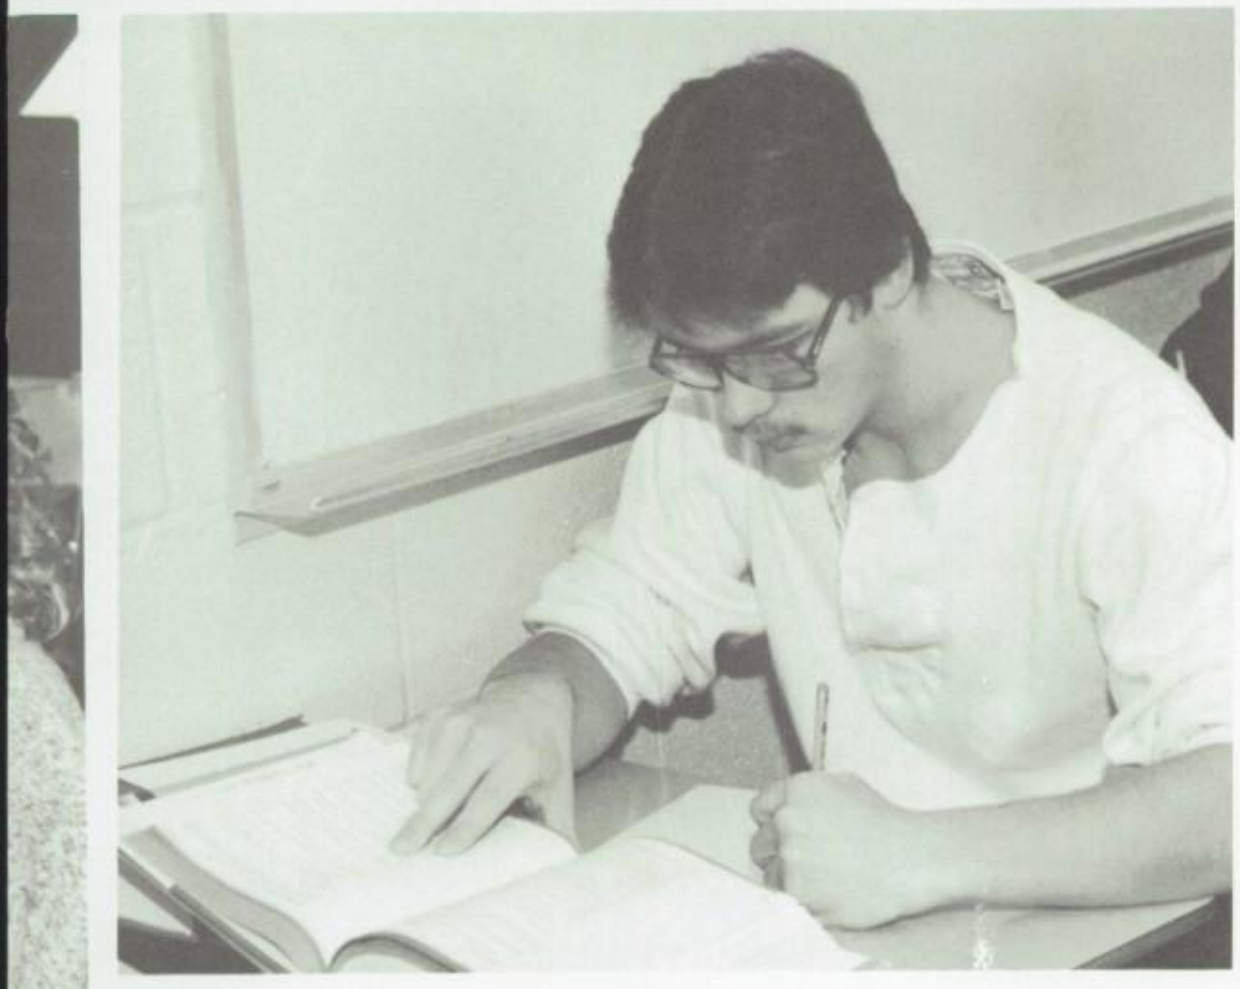
Memorizing. Dave Richardson finds tht it's easier to memorize Shakespeare alone.

Verbatim. Ken Monroe makes sure his answers are correct.



Tu Comprends? Mrs.Kapui helps Mark Monchien understand the French assignment.

Le Menu. Fran Herlihy,Joyce Glinsky,and Sherri Moore discover the food of France.

Yeah, Latin! Several foregin language students get involved with promoting Latin.

Check this out! Mr.Rusnak shows Jenny Meier an interesting fact about Spanish.

How many times do I have to write this? This foreign language student doesn't look very excited about the lesson.

Language offers Many Tongues

Midpark foreign language students share an enthusiam for French, German, Spanish, and Latin. To perpetuate this feeling, the foreign language teachers make the language become a part of daily life. Although few in number, the foreign language faculty is extremely dedicated and highly qualified.

Because of this very active, intelligent, and enthusiastic staff, foreign language at Midpark becomes a living and learning experience.

JUMP! While taking the Fitness Program, Jim Rakovec jumps rope.

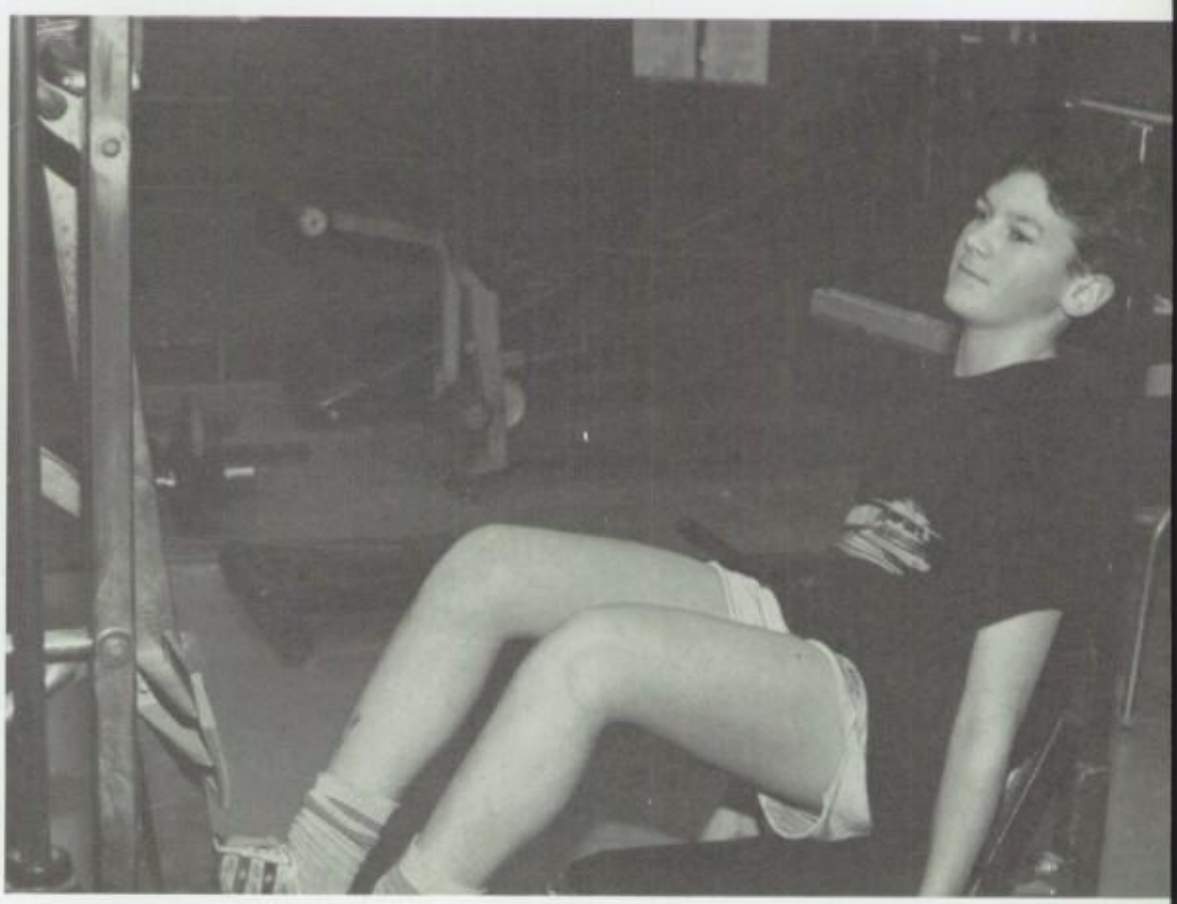
Phys Ed Keeps us Fit and Trim

Everyone takes a physical education and health course while at Midpark. These activities include swimming, softball, volleyball, basketball and tennis amoung other things. Just like the health movement in our country, the students at Midpark are keeping fit. Health classes cover areas of concern dealing with personal hygiene, drugs, and communicable diseases. Midpark's physcal education department is highly trained and well staffed, giving our students excellent teaching and skills.

Wanna Play? Carla Stark concentrates hard on the ping-pong ball over the net.

Basketball anyone? These swimmers enjoy their day in swimming with a good game of basketball.

Up and Down Sit ups are enjoyable and sometimes humorous for Tracey Poham and Barb Laruka.



He doesn't need a motor to do the job! Dave Motor is shown here working out in the weightroom.

I got it. Chrissy Vlach enjoys her cooking class.

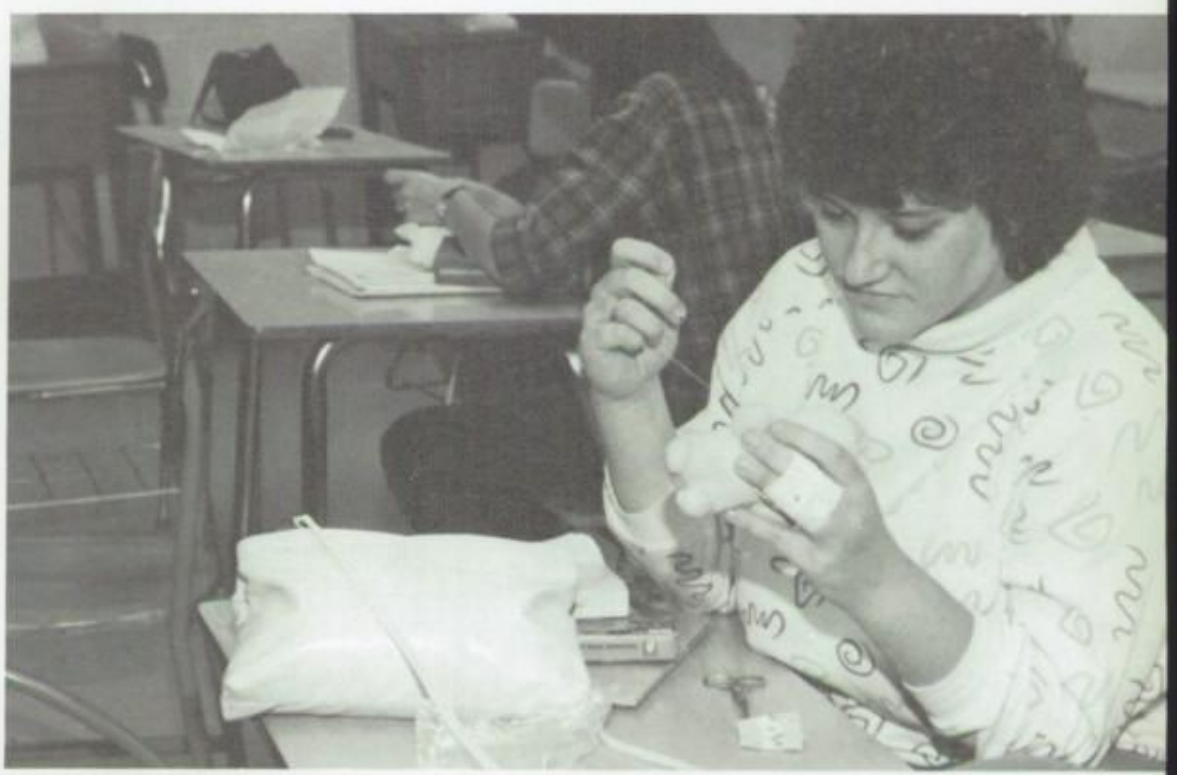
Home ec
To cook
Or not

Home Economics offers many interesting and creative skill building courses. Some of these elective courses are clothing, child development, cooking, outdoor living, and interior design. All Midpark students enjoy the variety of courses offered. Students are actively participating in these courses as they are preparing for the future. The faculty of the department offers Midpark students experience, creativity, and enthusiasm.

Was that the right ingredient? Kelly Geith measures the ingredients for the recipe.

I want some! Betsy Kinkus measures out the chocolate chips while Nicky Palleta stands by.

Concentration. The Home Ec Department involves many areas, one of which is sewing.



OUCH!!! Colleen Rieker hopes that she doesn't stick herself again while sewing her project.

Daydream believer Cathy Martoff is concentrating on math - or something else.

Problem 3 - No problem- Lisa Zelek ends an easy demonstation.

Math offers Variety Experience

The Math Department always meets the needs of the student body, according the chairman, Mr.Bill Bourjailly. Midpark has four mathematics tracks which a student could follow: college prep, honors track, business and technology track, and the basic track.

Mr. Bourjailly said "The goal of the twelve math teachers is to see that the students get the most they can out of math." He also added that "the staff as teachers really care about the students."

Two teachers, Miss Carol Hartford and Mr. Herb Sprowls have over thirty years experience in teaching -- Sprowls has been at Midpark since its inception -- and five, Bourjailly, Mr. Jim Buddie, Mr. Don Leonard, Mr. Ken Tate, and Mr.Ed Wolff, have over twenty-two years teaching experience each, giving the department a very stable and well-qualified background.

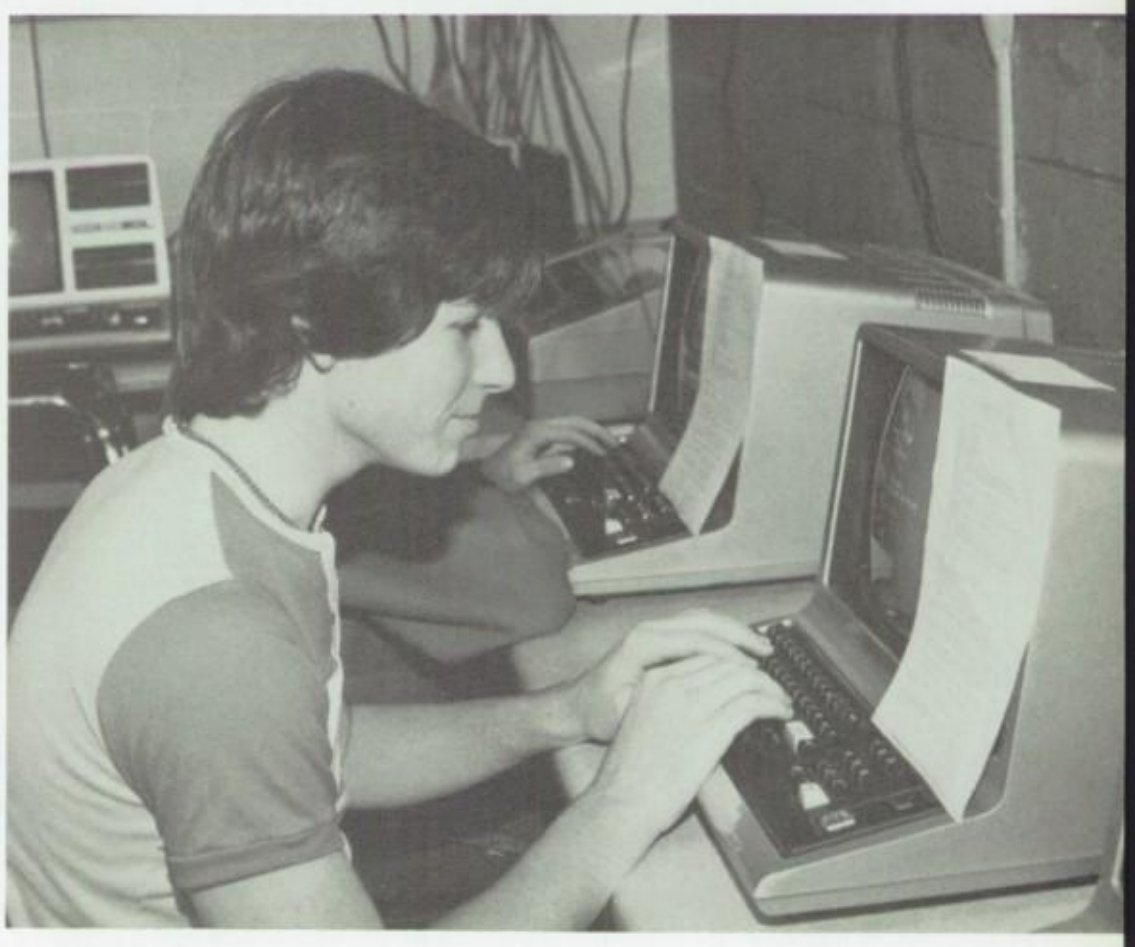
Now I get it! Mrs. Friedman shows Jenny Weber the solution.

New addition Al Gassman concentrates harder to get good grades.



1 and 1 and 1 is 3. Computer skills come in handy. Just ask Bill Minor!

SCHOLARSHIP HOPEFULS Senior art majors Patti Miklovic and Kim Peculis work hard to prepare their portfolios for scholarship competion.

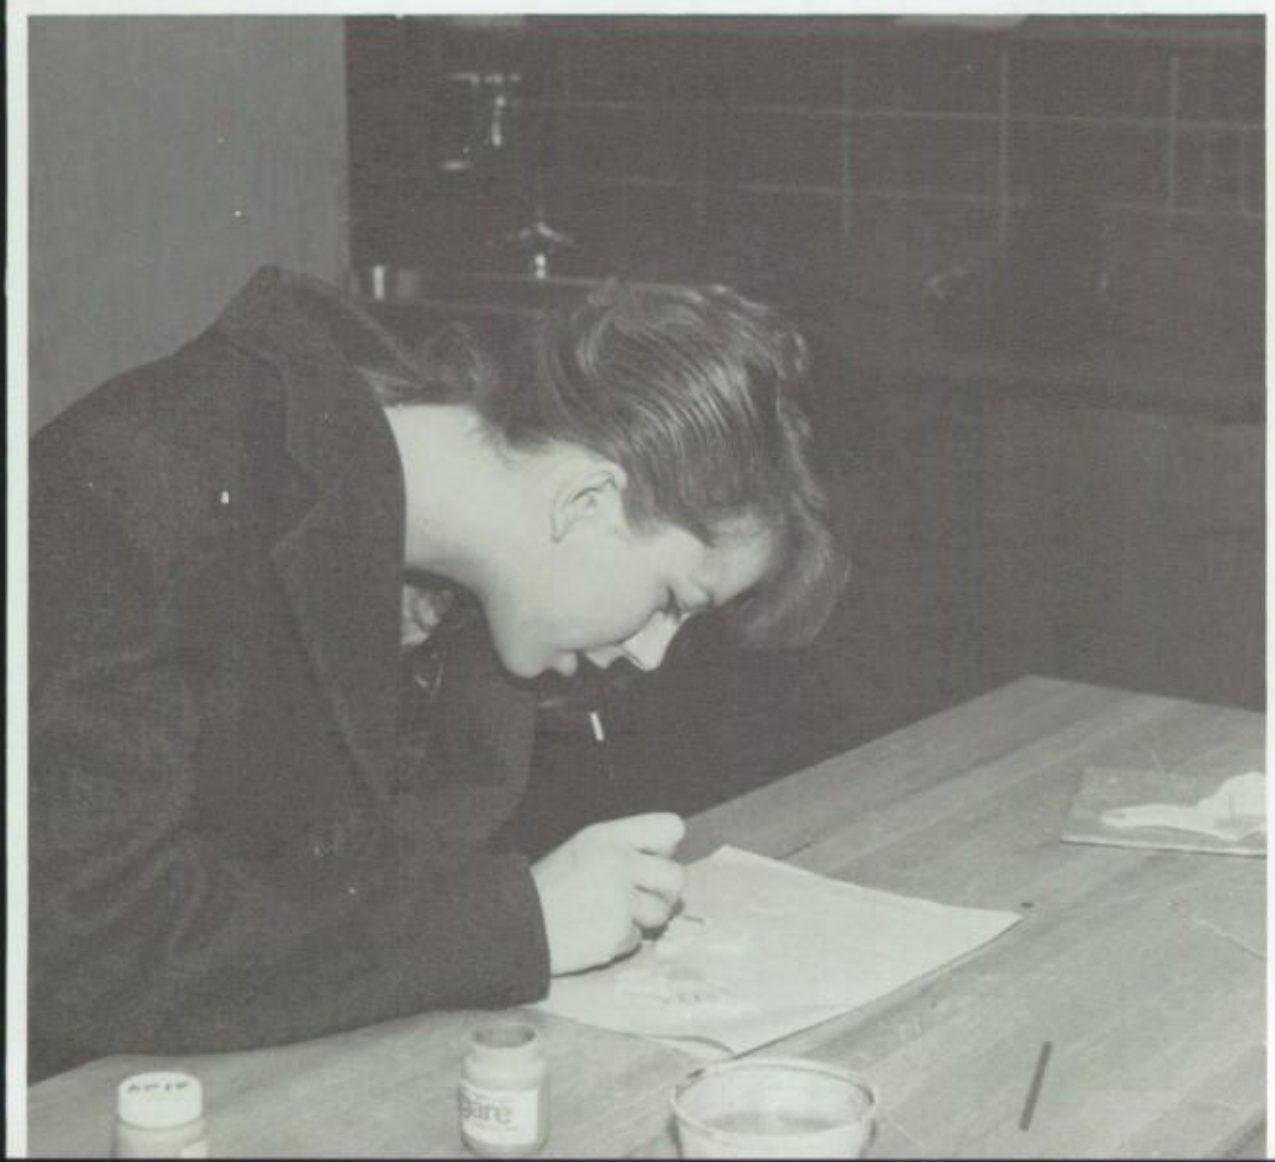
GROUP EFFORT Senior commericial art student Dave Steets, Lisa Zelek, and Reno Ceo help each other form ideas for their next project.

LIKE THIS Shelby Robinson paints the final coat of glaze on her ceramics.

Art paints New picture

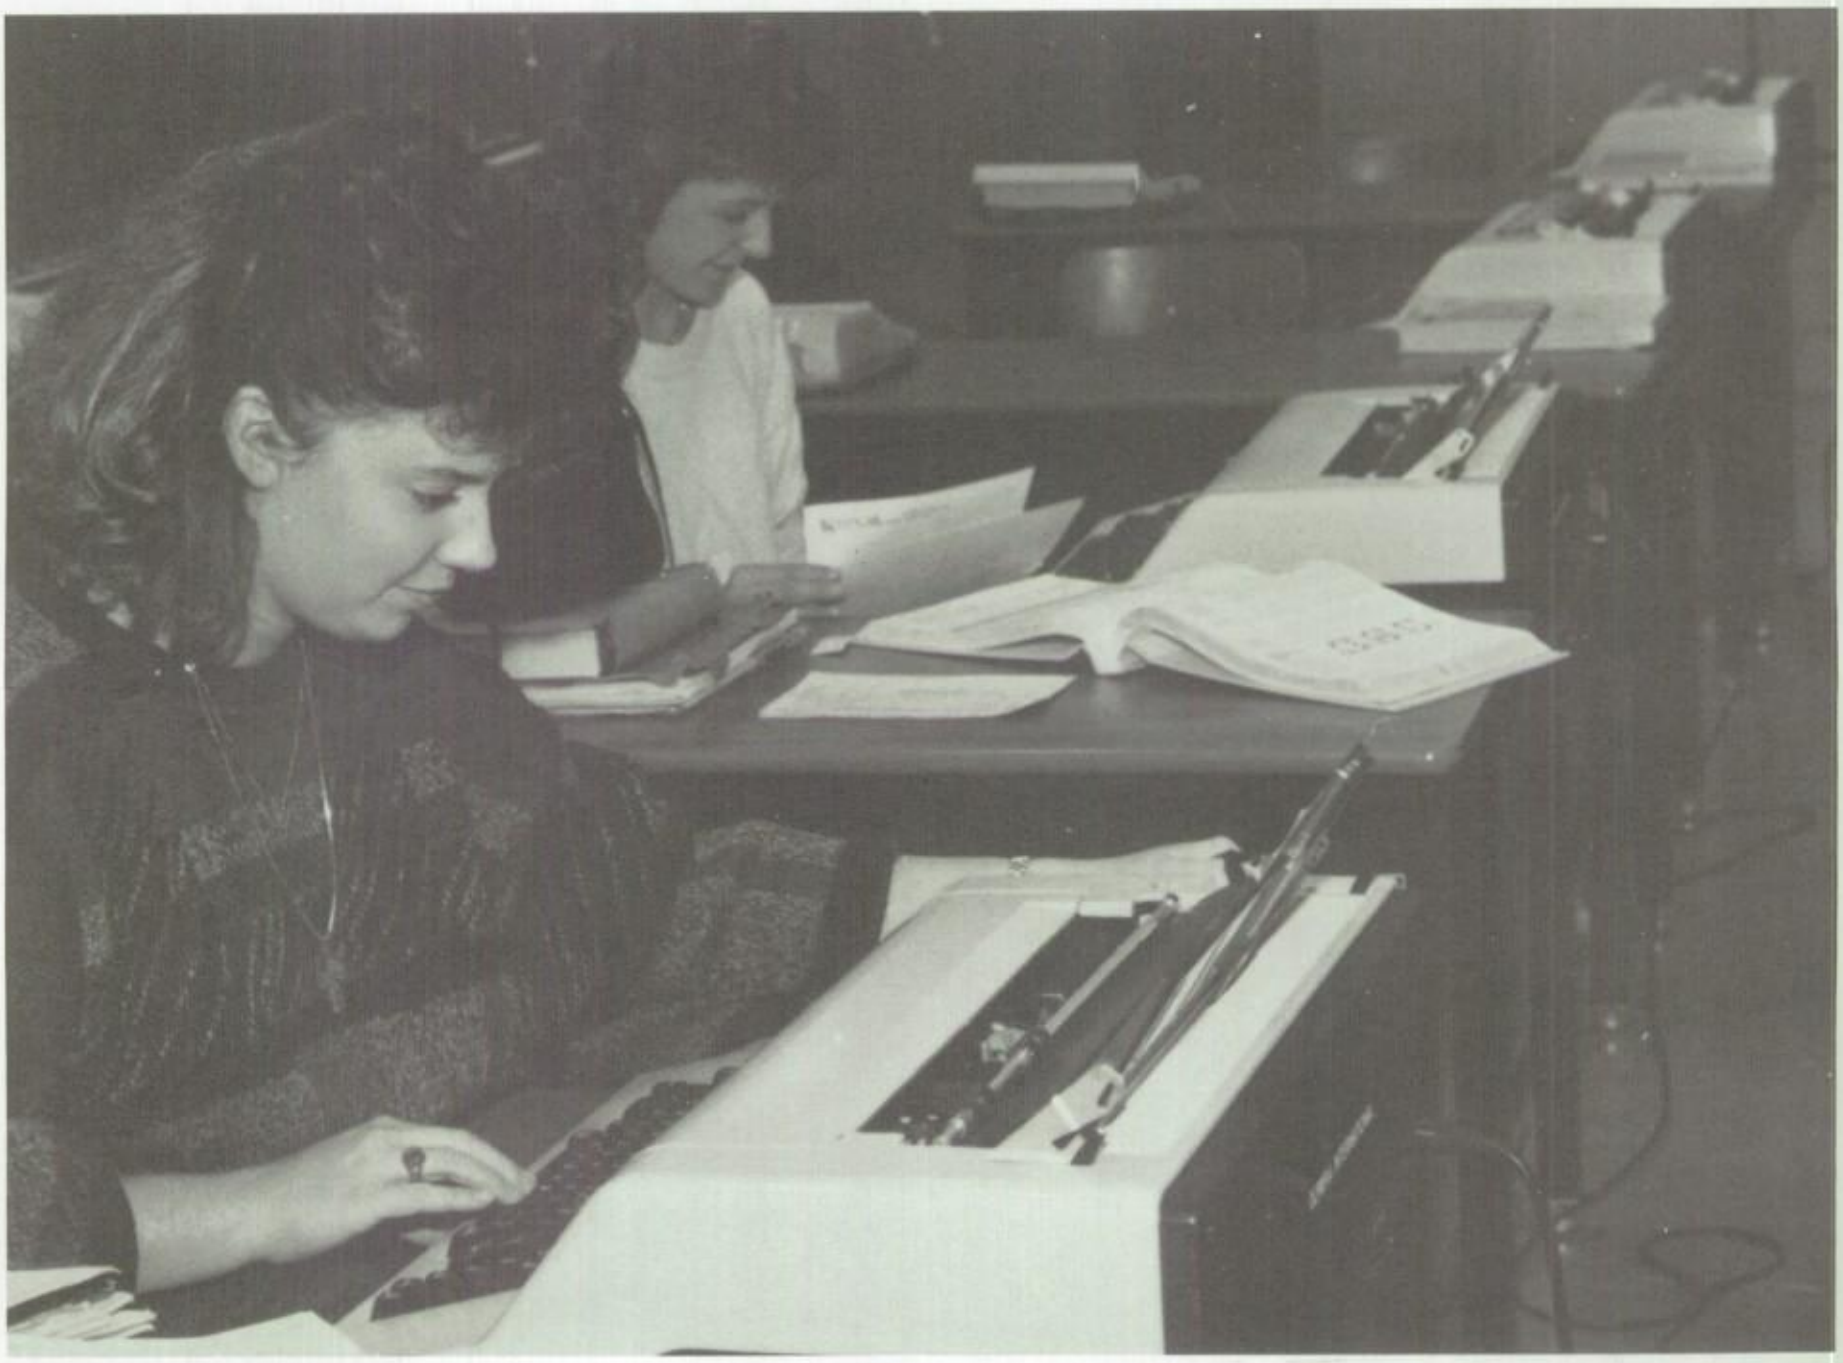
If there is one department at Midpark that deserves more credit than it receives, it's the Art Department. Many people seem to view art courses as just elective classes, or an ''easy grade.'' But art majors take these courses vey seriously. Creativity is an essential part of one's cultural development, as demonstrated by the dedicated staff. Art Department chairman, Charles Bontempo, along with the staff members, Sue Brown, Frederick. C. Graff, and Barbara Kaplysh, are accomplished artists in their own right as well as professional instructors. Mr. Graff is nationally known for his water colors. This staff helps develop student's talents for future careers in the world of art.

HOW ABOUT THIS COLOR? Junoir Mike MacDonald selects the proper pastel color for his creation.



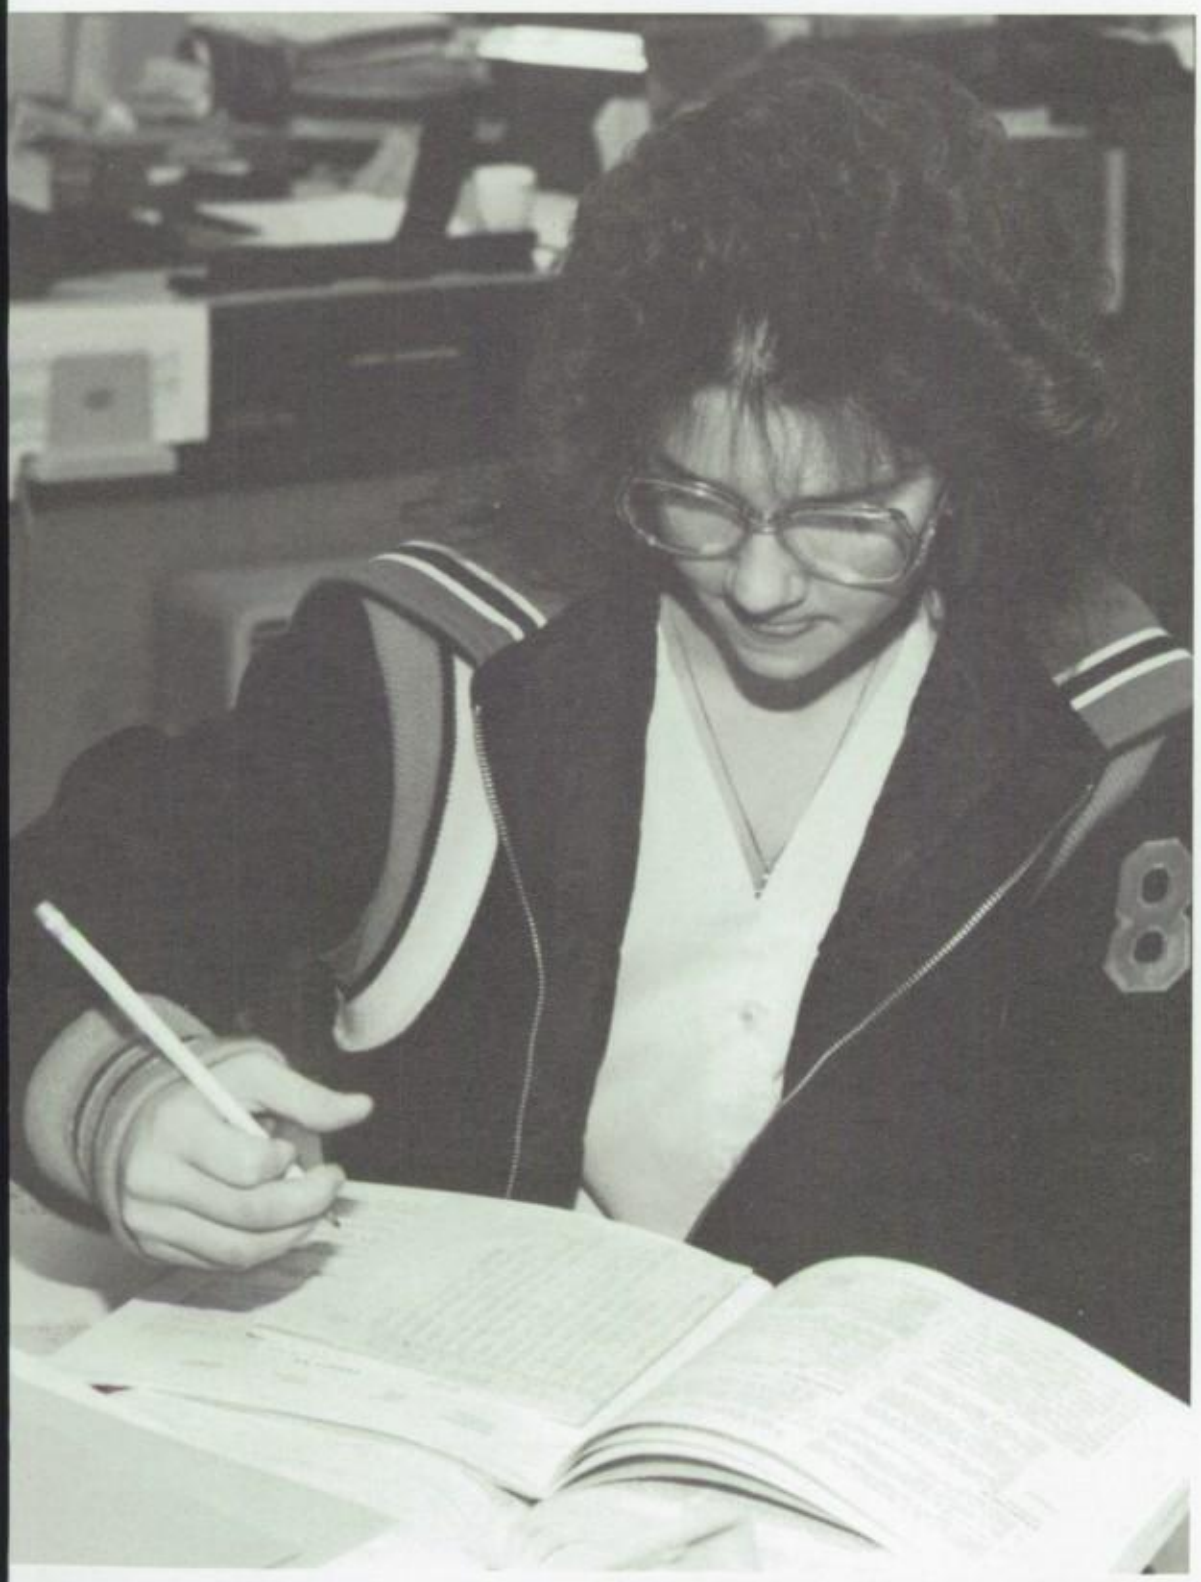
WHAT IS THAT? Brian Tesmer wonders what Tammy Reinprect is sculpting.

Business Theory. Linda Crossen reads a chapter concerning proper practce and theory of business.



New typewriters?? Midpark's new typewriters make things much easier for Wendy Friscone and Kim Stock.

Practice makes perfect. Scott Schultheis knows that to be a good typist takes practice.

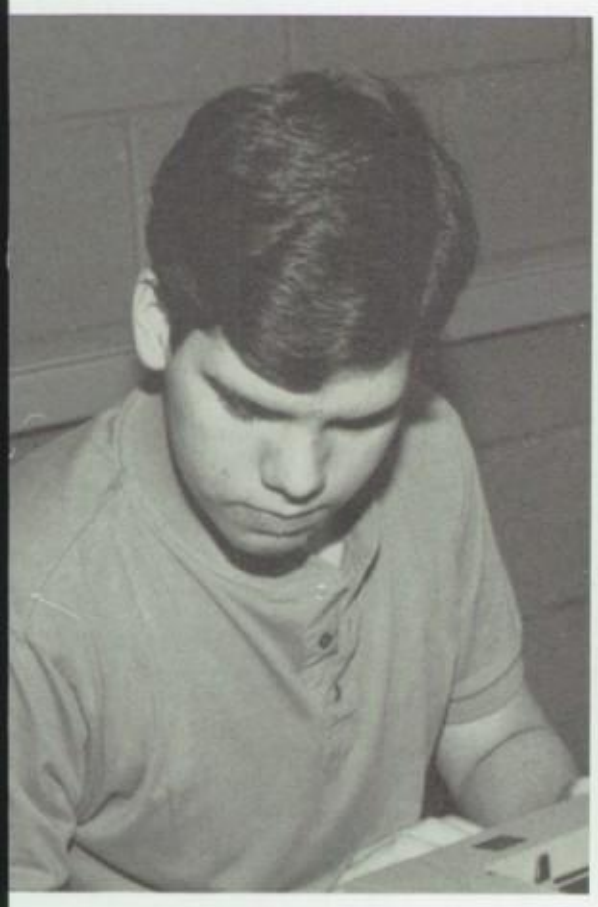


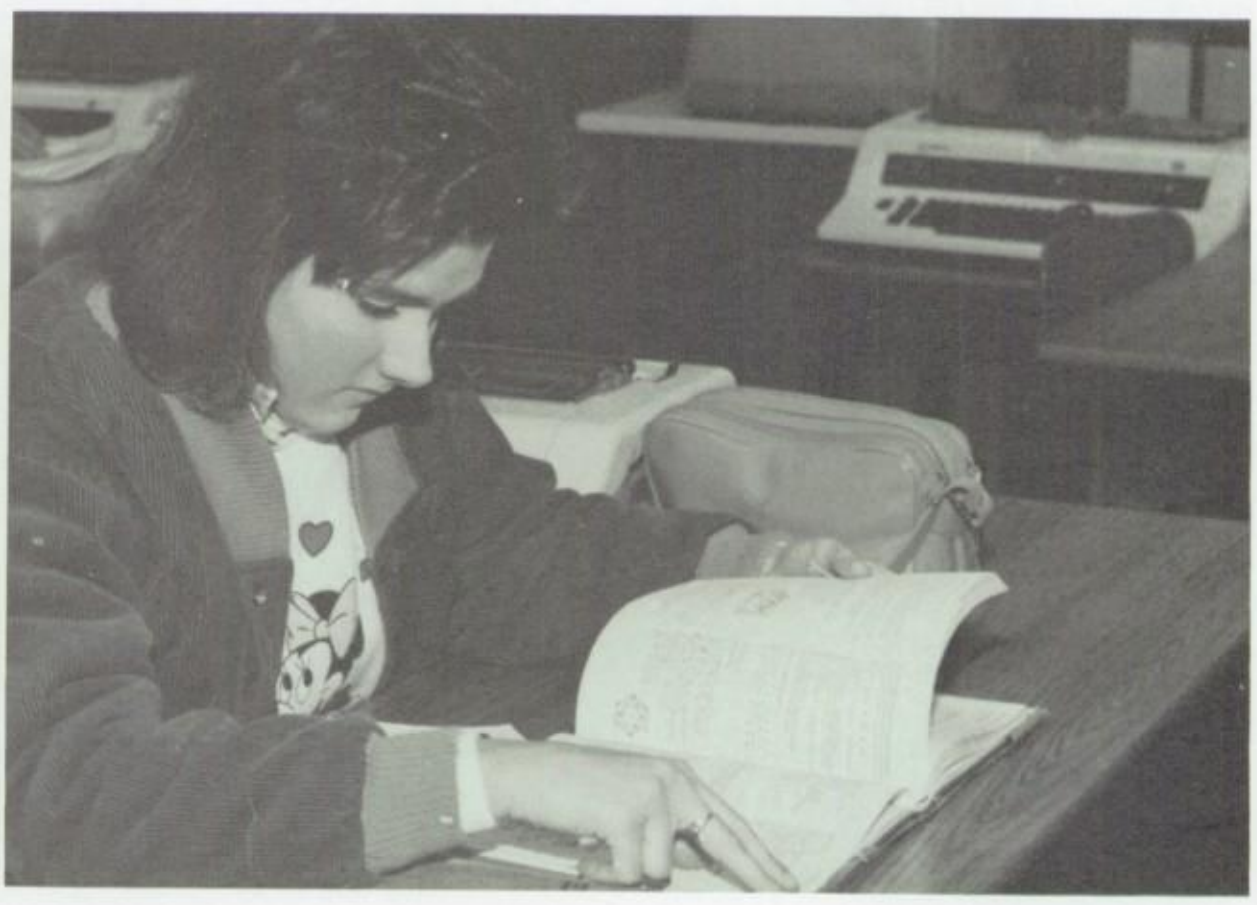
Business-like Atmosphere

Business, as in the business department, is clean, efficient, and very "business-like." Students are able to take courses in rooms that are designed to reinforce the office and business world atmosphere. In addition, a very competent and experienced faculty provide the students with a quality education.

Numbers..Numbers--Everywhere. Maria Chaga analyzes a few accounting problems.

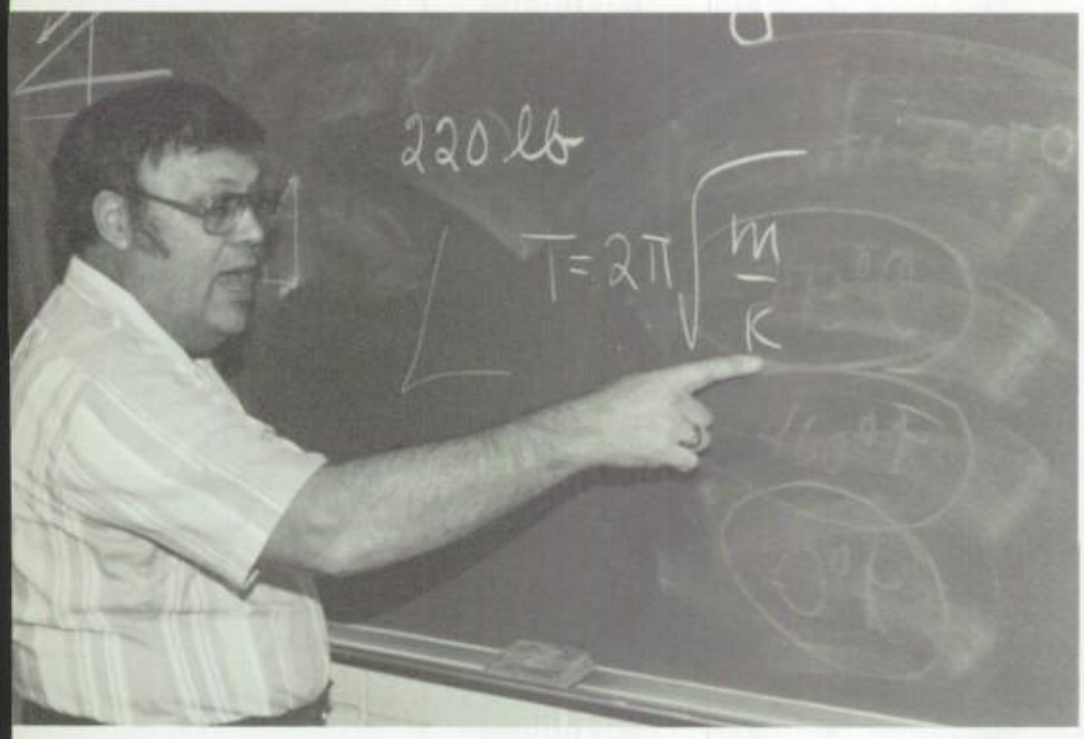
Timed typing. Lisa Goza has no time to stop during a timed typing test.





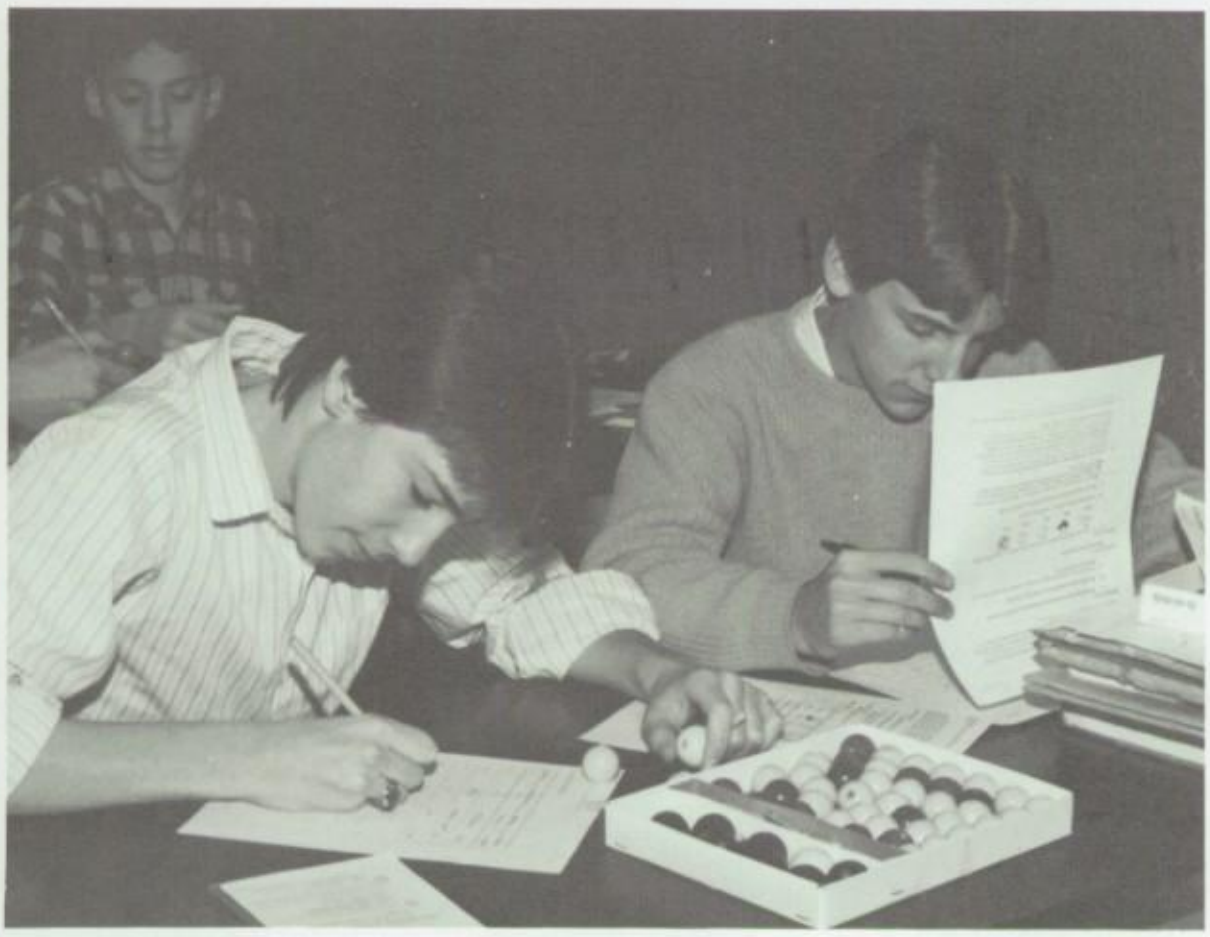
The laws of science. Nino Buinellow, Ken Goldman, and Mike Callow are trying to break the law.

It's so colorful. Jodi Short and Tracey Rettig find that physics is colorful and fun.



It's not Greek. No, it's purely scientifical (sic) according to Dick Heckathorn.

I found my watch. Jeff VanHardim shows Jim Ricardi how its supposed to be done.



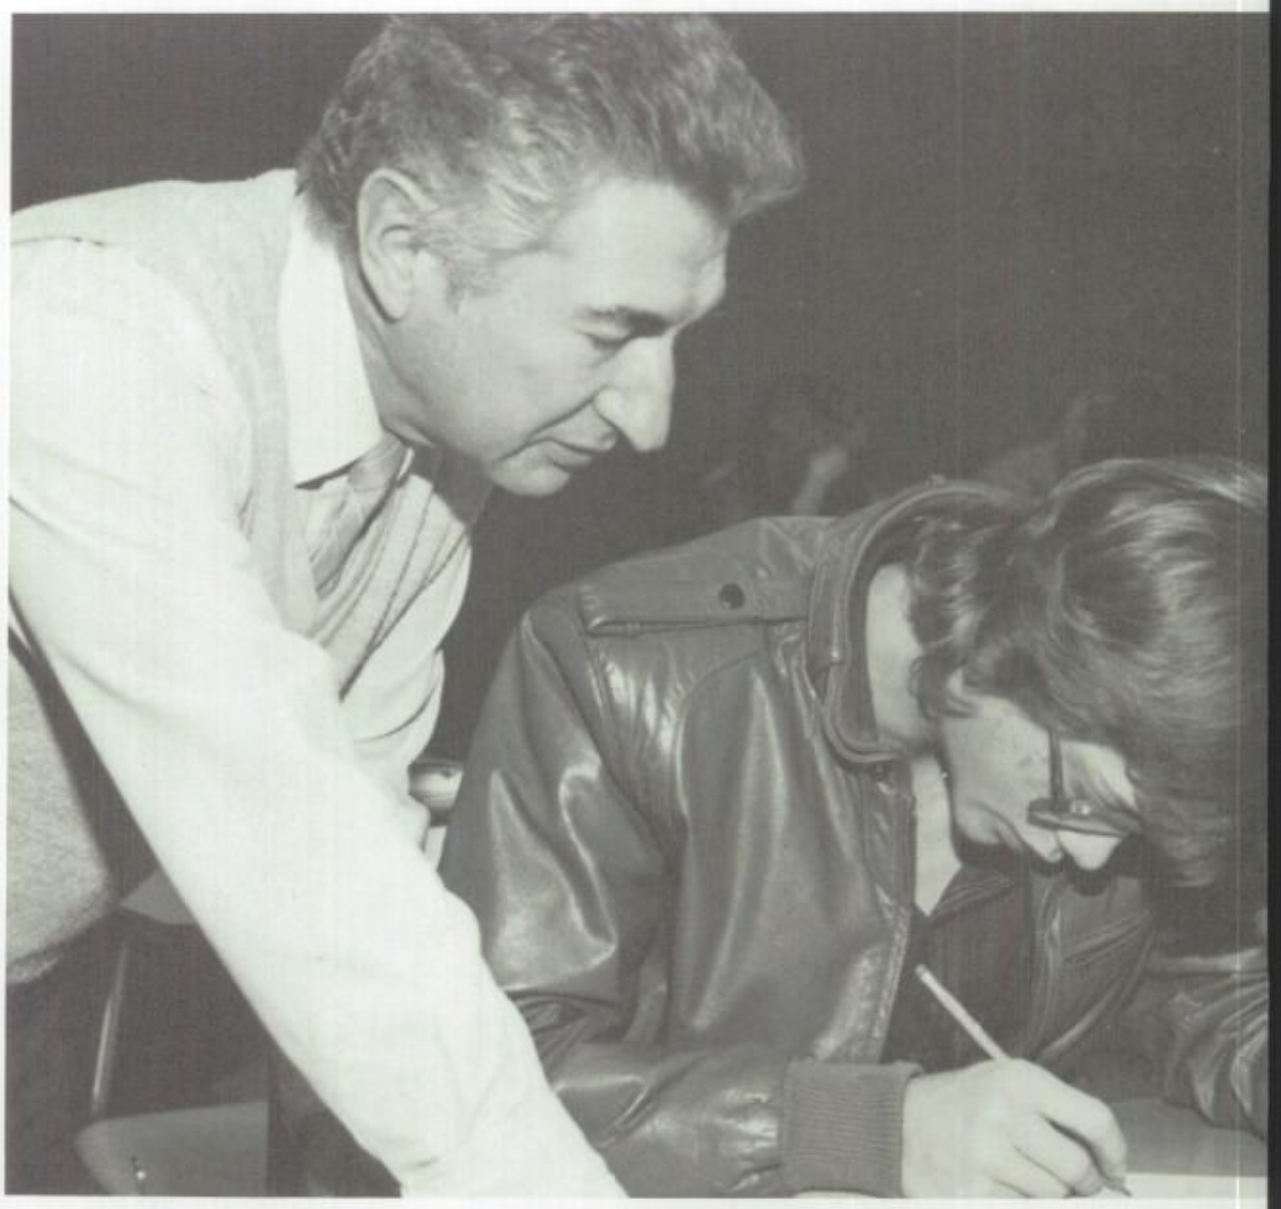
Enthusiam. Seniors Scott Korhely and Amar Charharm complete another endless experiment.

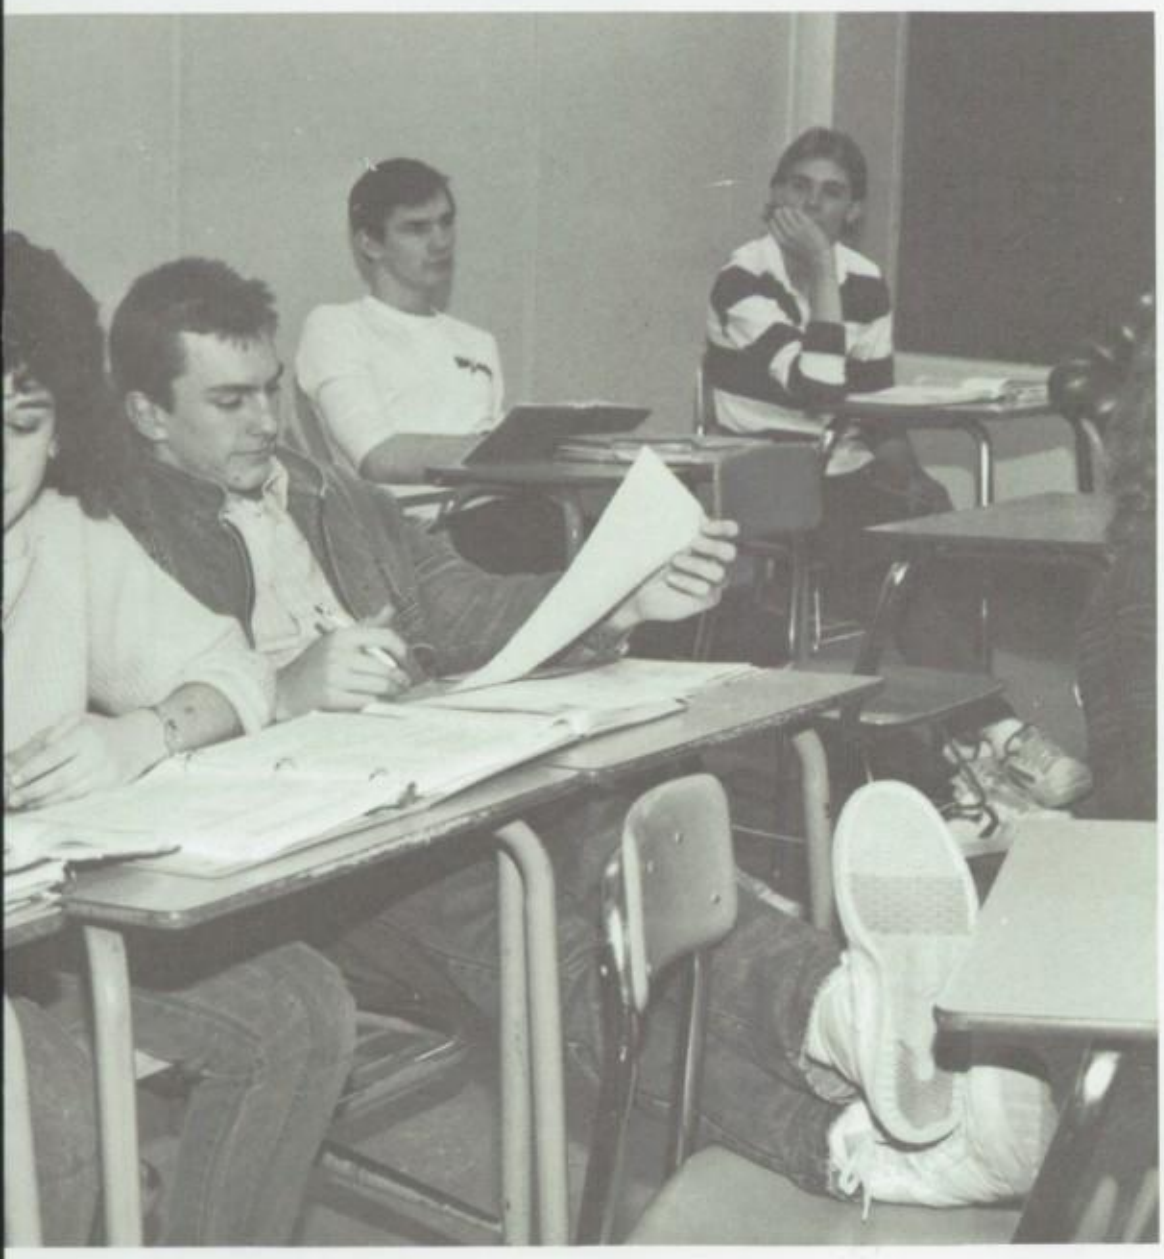
Why are these students throwing tennis balls at one another while revolving on the tee ter totter? Why are the others playing with slinkies? PHYSICS!!

The Science department has always welcomed challenges, inquiries, and curious students. In order to foster the need for experimentation and research, Midpark's Science department offers students a variety of courses that range from Biology and Earth Science to Action Physics and Advanced Physical Science. With ten qualified and dedicated teachers, the Science department is able to meet all the student's needs.

Students get Variety in Social Studies

The Social Studies department staffed by experience and qualified teachers, provides a variety of courses for Midpark students. One of the more specialized courses is Advanced Placement European History, which is geared to the college bound students with above average qualifications.
Another area of study focuses on citizenship projects. There projects are completed during thr senior year and include actual on-site experiences. Students attend trials at the Justice Center, interview leading political officials, work as teacher-aides, and visit local court rooms.
The department is also activly involved in the Close-Up project and Model U.N.





Looking good. Mr. Ollie Bittinger helps a student with his paper.
That's enough!! Mr.Gary Marrie dexplains to one of his students while Joe Laszlo looks up in amazement.
Take one. Joe Laszlo stretches to pass a paper back while talking to a friend.
Sit back and relax. Mike Callow leans back and lets Tina Schuller and Jill Johnson look up the answer.

New sounds New spirit

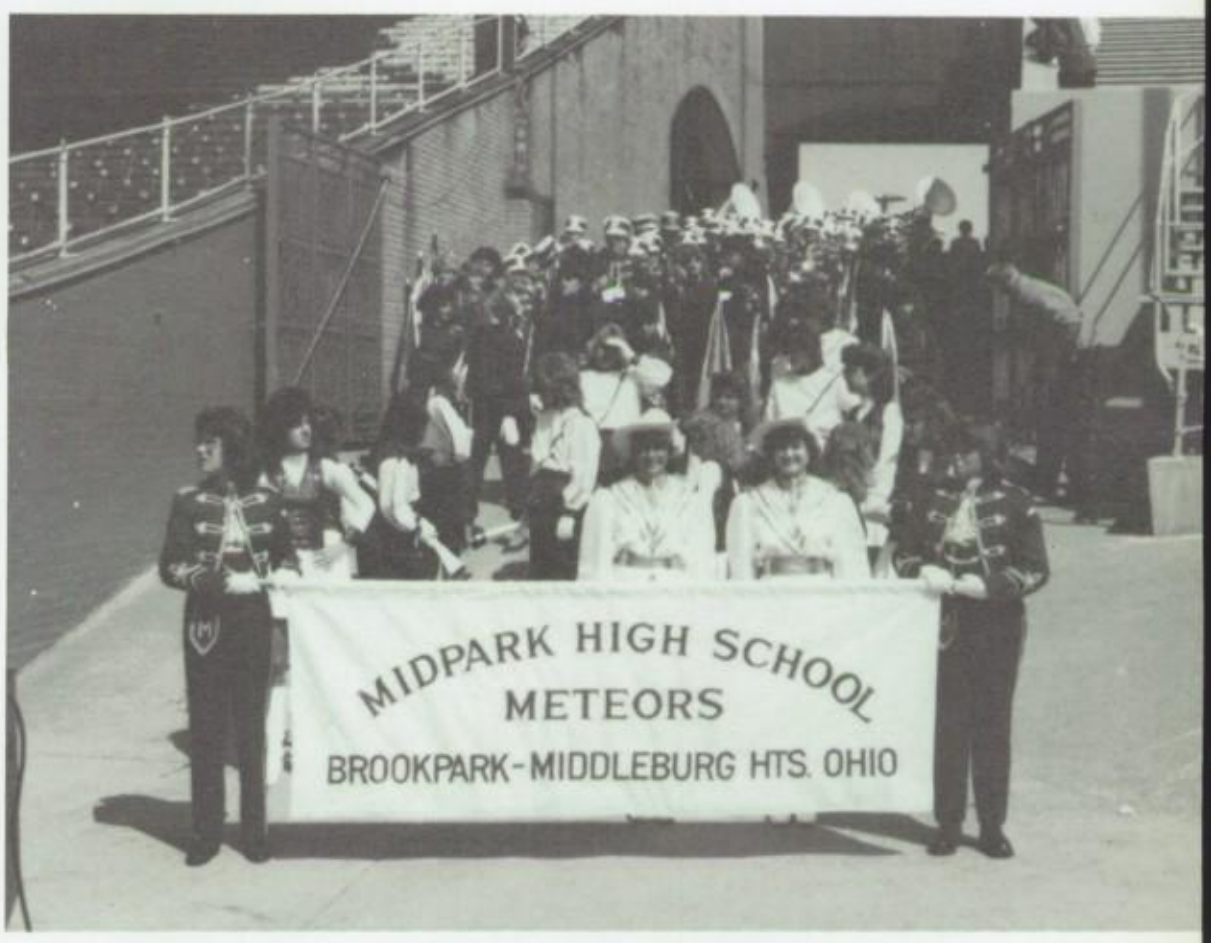
The marching band underwent many changes this year. Not only did the band get two new directors, Scott Rovniak and John Brzozowski, but they also got new style and spirit. A unique style- half corps, half swing -was adapted by th band. The crowds finally began to realize that the half-time shows were something to watch and not a time to go to the snack bar. One of the highlights of the season was the sixteenth anual Band Spectacular. There was a record turn out for the first rainless night in sixteen years. It is obvious that this new sound and new spirit marks the beginning of great new seasons of sound for the Midpark Marching Meteor Band.

Percussin power. The percussion will do anything to get attention. Nice hair Jim Starek!

We have it all. Sophomore Vicki Williamson tries not to notice junior field commanders Jodi Short and Christina Theodore.

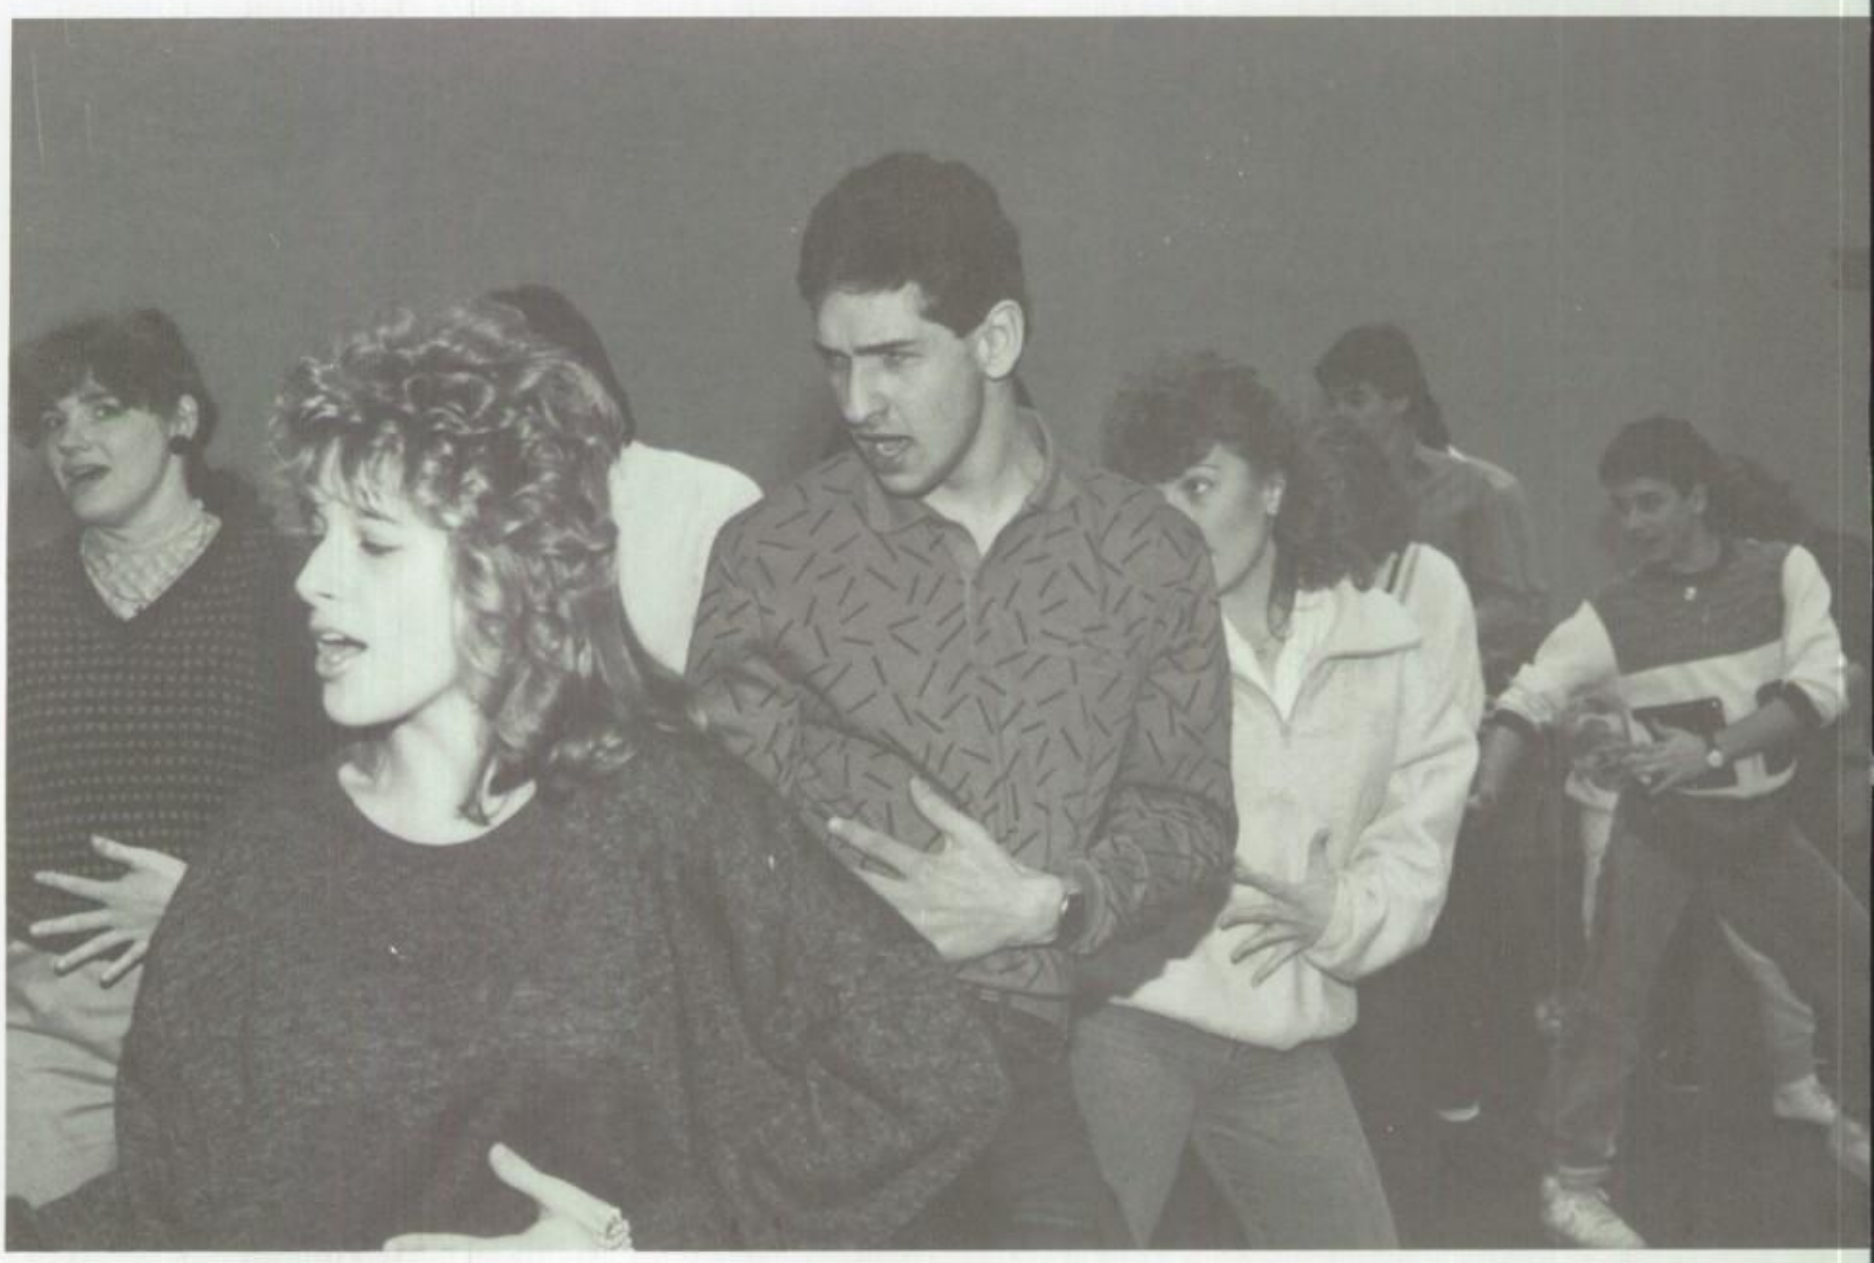
Jazz it up. This just proves that anything can change. Just look at what the band can do now.

Solo seeker. Senior Joe Tipton soaks up the attention during his solo.
Play it again band. Here goes our band playing yet another endless session of 'Stand Up and Cheer' at one of the pep rallies.
Here comes the band. Midpark prepares for their performance at the Cleveland Stadium.
White gloves?Mr. Rovniak goes to great extremes to make sure the band's gloves are clean.



Vocal group Notes many

The Music Department offers many courses for students who wish to excell in their choral abilities. Chorale, concert choir, and women's chorus help the students develop a better understanding of their musical ability and allow them to improve their singing techniques and musical skills.



Here we are!! The group practices for their performance to show off ther stuff.

'Rock me Amadeus.' Mr. Dave Markle is our Mozart.

Magic Performs On Stage

They sing, they dance, they steal the show! Who are they? They're our very own show choir, MIDPARK MAGIC. This year's performing group includes 24 mebers under the direction of Mr. Dave Markle. The choreographer is a professional dancer, Sherri Livingston.

Midpark Magic works during the school day and also meet for evening rehearsals. Not only does Midpark Magic have fine vocal quality, but they also have that little "extra something" that gives them their professional style ad appearance.

A man and his horn. Band director, Scott Rovniak, is a good example for his students, especially when he plays that horn.

All Brass Len Rausher, Mark Wyler, Jonathan Sachs, Sean Finnan, Andy Horvath, Mike Mozzocco, and Christa Gaydos can really make the sounds come alive.

Cool Baby The man behind the Foster Grants is Daryl Winter, accompanied by Jeff Robertson on the synthesizer.

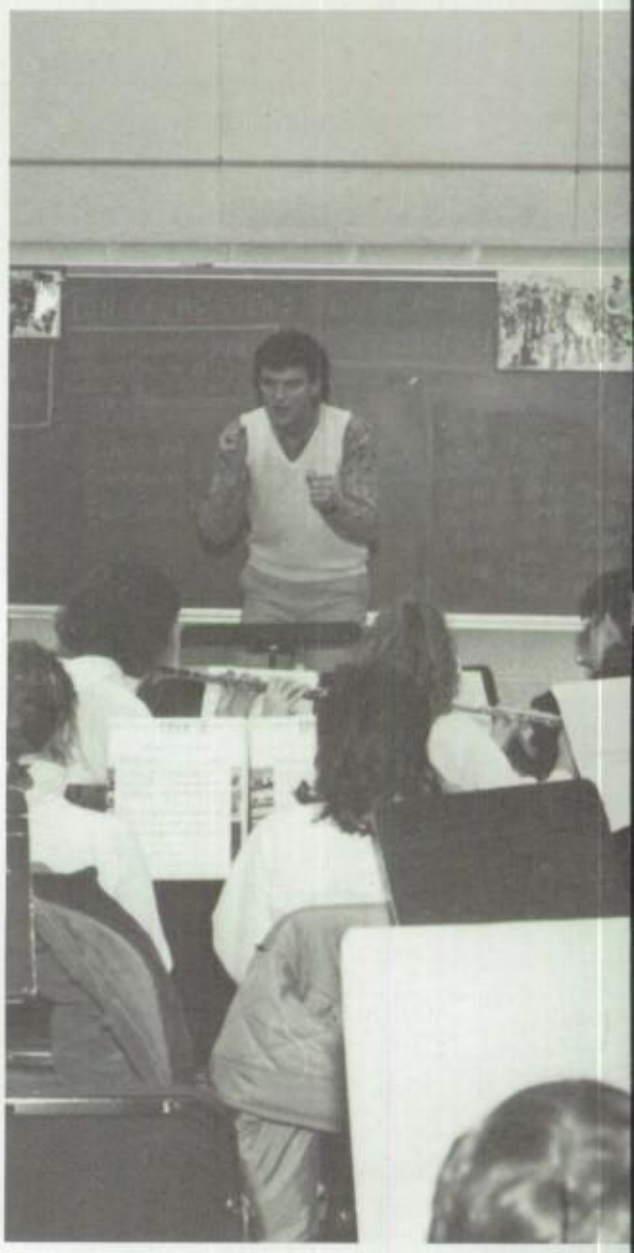
Jazz band Starts up

The Midpark jazz band starts at the end of the marching band season and goes on through June. It is directed by Mr. Scott Rovniak and currently has eighteen members from all grades. The group practices daily and at least one evening a week to prepare for concerts and jazz festivals.

Loud and Strong Drummer, Jim Starek, keeps the beat and everyone alive, including Dave Jadishke and Jeff Robertson.

Pep It Up At pep rallies, Daryl Winter keeps the music going with the pep band.

Rock -n- Roll and Pep Rallies The Pep Band keeps everyone hopping during Midpark's pep assemblies.



From Field To Stage

After the football season is over, a symphonic concert band emerges from the Midpark marching band. This symphonic band plays concerts during the Christmas and spring seasons, and for other special occasions. The band members switch to smaller concert insturments for this band. In addition to the marching band, Scott Rovniak, the director, is also at the baton for te symphonic concert band.

GO, PLAY, MARCH! "Bernie Kosar" gives his "team " a pep talk.

WRONG NOTE! Carrie, Andrea, and Val concentrate on their music.

STRIKE UP THE BAND The trumpet section starts up another song.

BIG NOISE "Big Noise" is the song where the flutes get their solo.

Practice Makes Perfect. Denis Kopin, Nino Brunello, and Daryl Winter sound good anytime.

Taking a Bow. The Orchestra takes a well deserved bow, for an outstanding performance.

Perfection The Orchestra conducted by Mr. Brzozowski, gave a great concert.

Sweet Sounds Mirela Conea, Sara Monsour, Belinda Cate, and Robert Hetzel demonstrate that the violin has a unique and beautiful sound.

Orchestal Maneuvers The Midpark Orchestra is a blend of talented and gifted musicians.

A Quiet Time Sue Czechan enjoys a quiet, private place to practice.

Beautiful Music Every performance by the Midpark Orchestra is a blend of harmony and magic.

Many forms Of music

Directed by Mr. John Brozozowski, the Midpark orchestra has thirty-five members. Sixteen of them are also in the string orchestra which sometimes performs separately from the regular orchestra. The group rehearses every day and once a week after school. They play for concerts during the spring and Chritmas season and orchestra festival.

Tech School Helps Students

Many juniors and seniors from Midpark attend Polaris Vocational Center. Everyday the students travel to Polaris to prepare themselves for their future in the vocational area by taking courses designed for the job market. There are over twenty programs available to students.

The programs range from commercial art, cosmetology, to electronics, auto mechanics, and law enforcement. There are two year and one year programs in special areas. Students interested in future careers are encouraged to investigate the opportunities that are available at Polaris.

Also, Polaris encourages students to gain additional knowledge in their career choices by attending a technical or a two-year college.

Michelle Burg is learning from Dental Assistant Instructor Mrs. Pam Vizer how to prepare a custom acrylic tray.

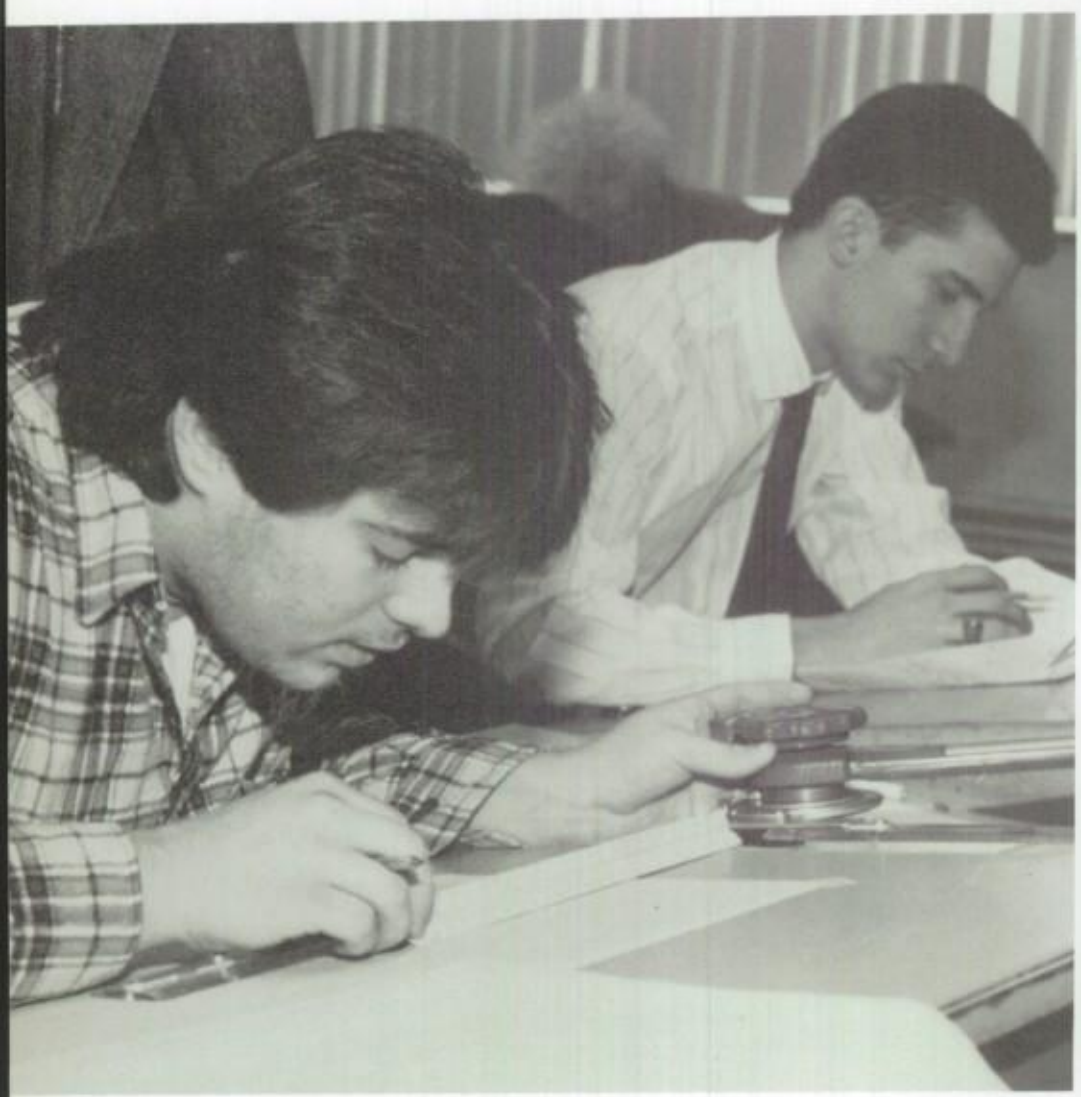
David Adkins bathes a dog for a customer in the Polaris Pet Shop.

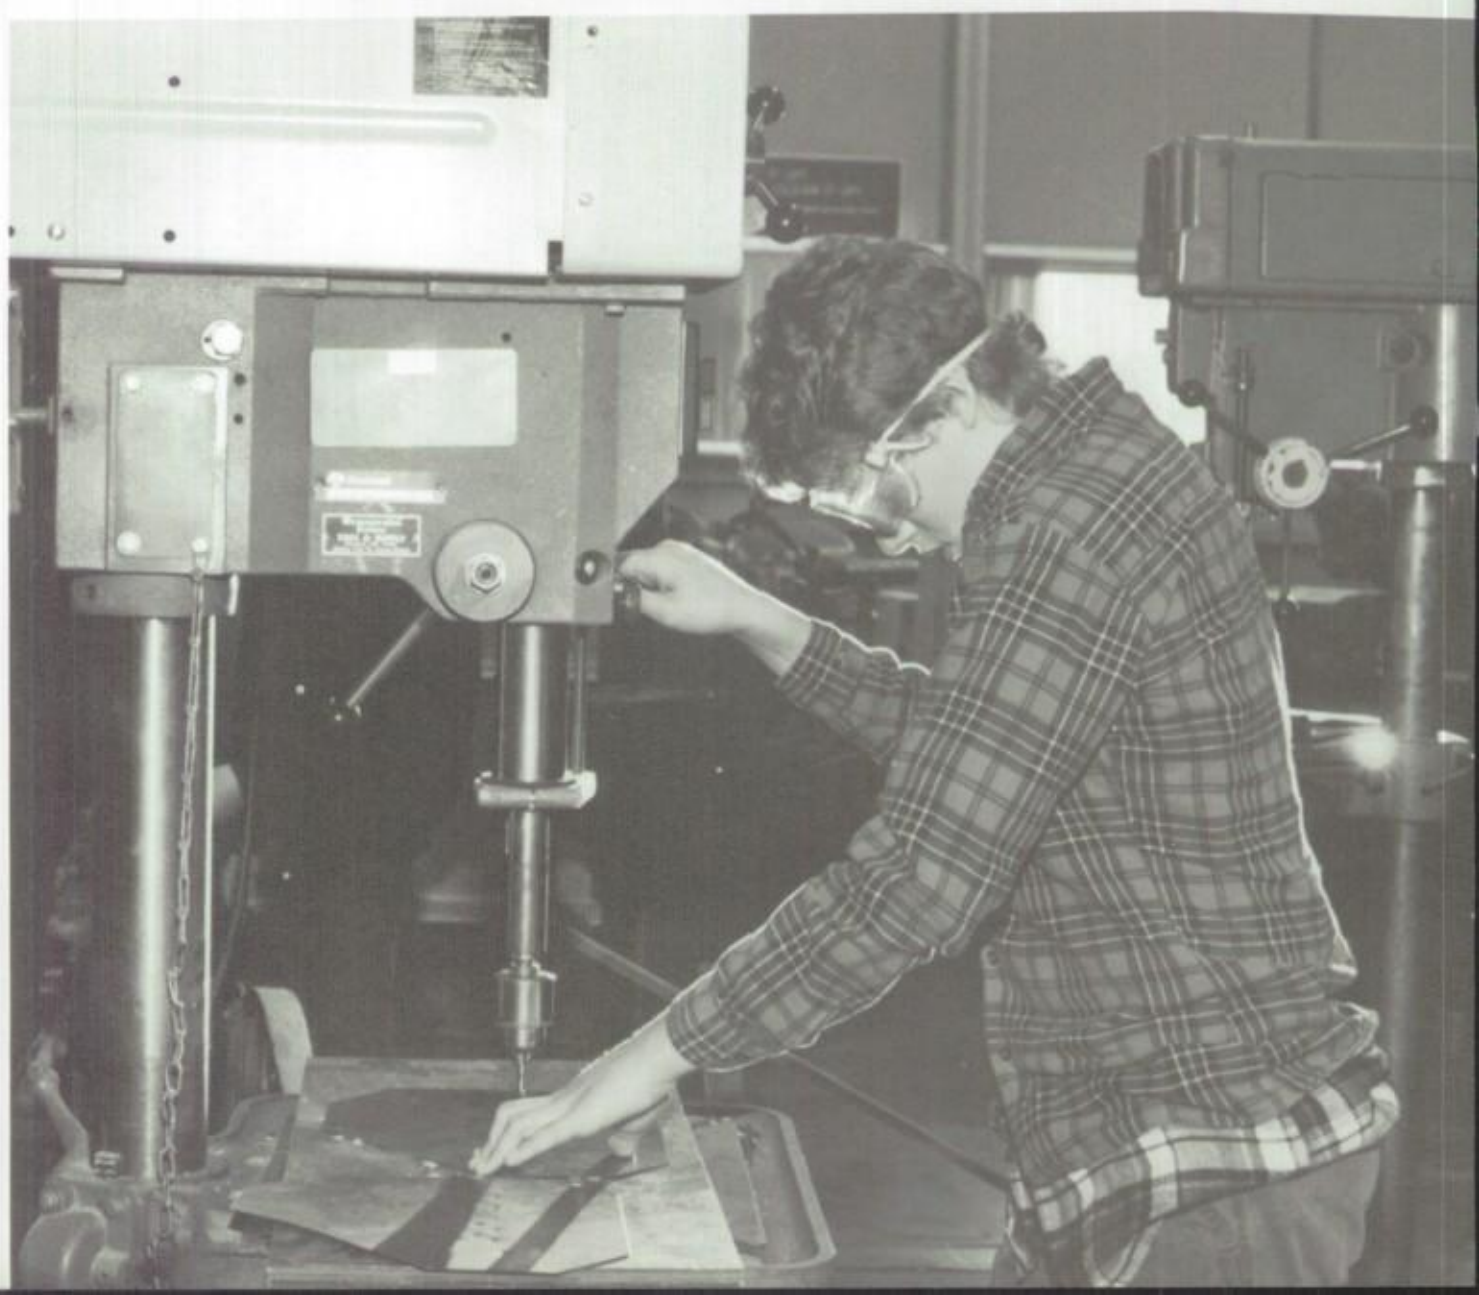
Tracy Tulcewicz concentrates on the manicre she's doing for KellyBrain. Both are Cosmetology seniors.

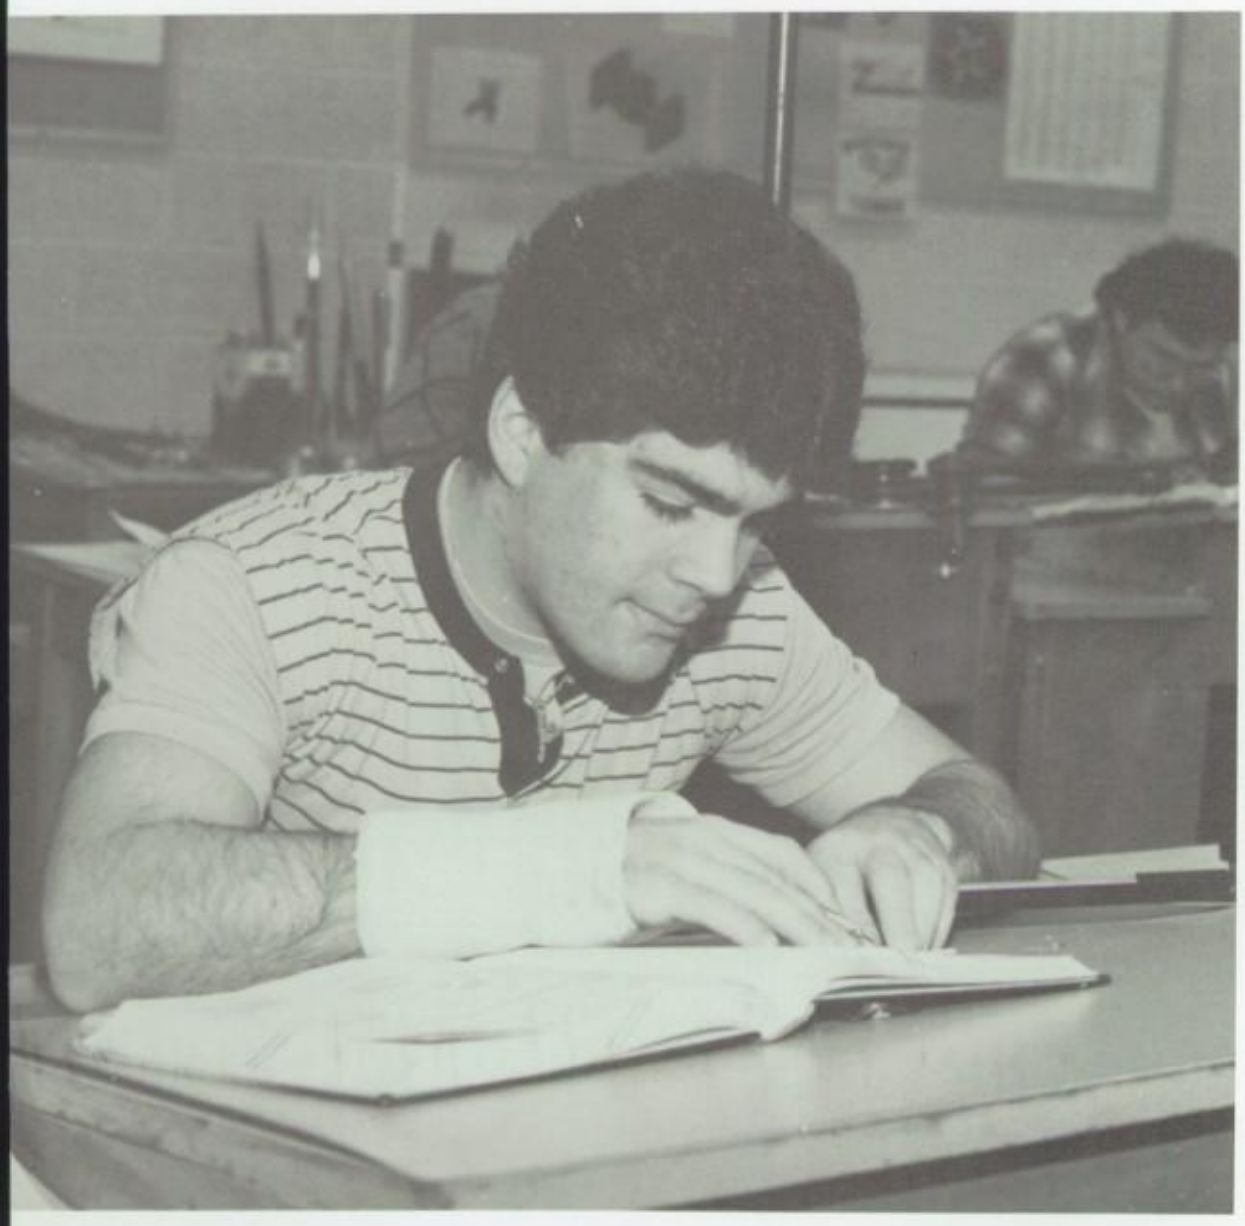
Medical Assistant Erin Conway uses the "geri" chair to transport patient (nicknamed Mrs.Chase).

Marty Frye operates milling machine in the machine shop.

Tanya Nedelkoski Shelly Morris and Tammy Lee perform dental assisting tasks for Channel 8's camera.





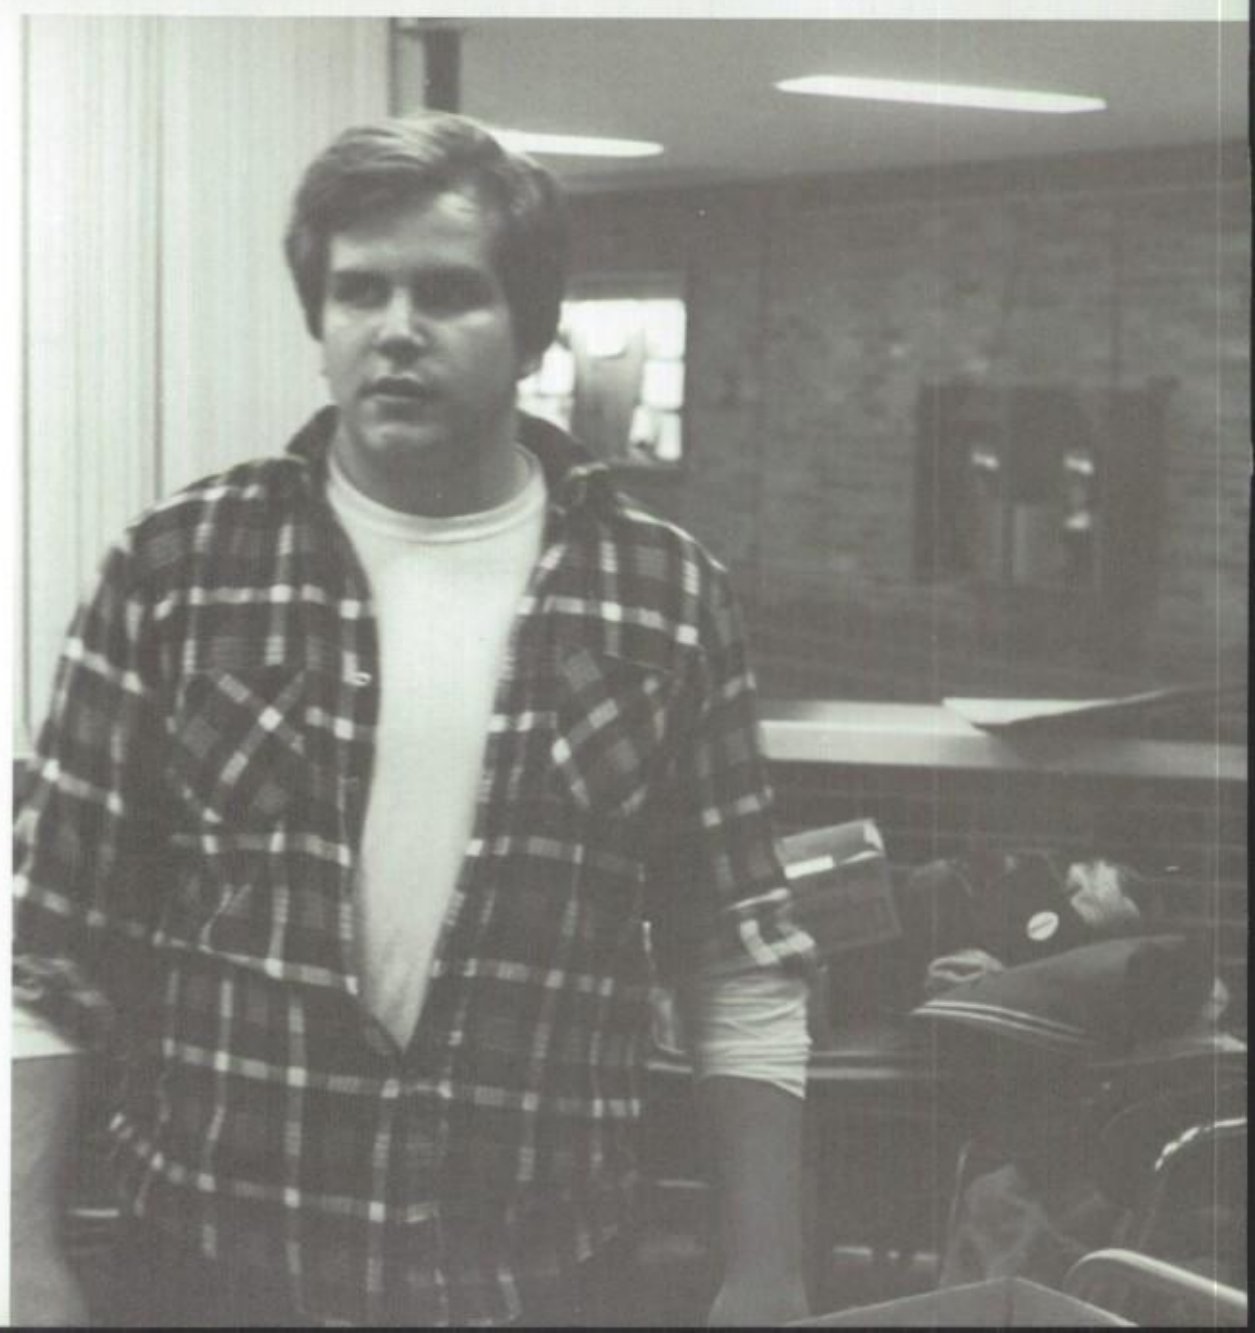


Oh where, oh where is Industrial Arts

What is IA? Industrial Arts is the collective heading for a variety of classes including photography, woodshop, metal shop, and mechanical and architectural drawing. Unfortunately, the staff and student enrollment is gettig smaller every year. This year there were only two and a half staff members.

Being in existence for twenty-five years, the IA Department has always provided the students with a variety of educational opportunities. A highlytrained and experienced staff promotes individualized training. Hopefully, with the next 25 years, the IA Department will again see high enrollments and a full teaching staff.

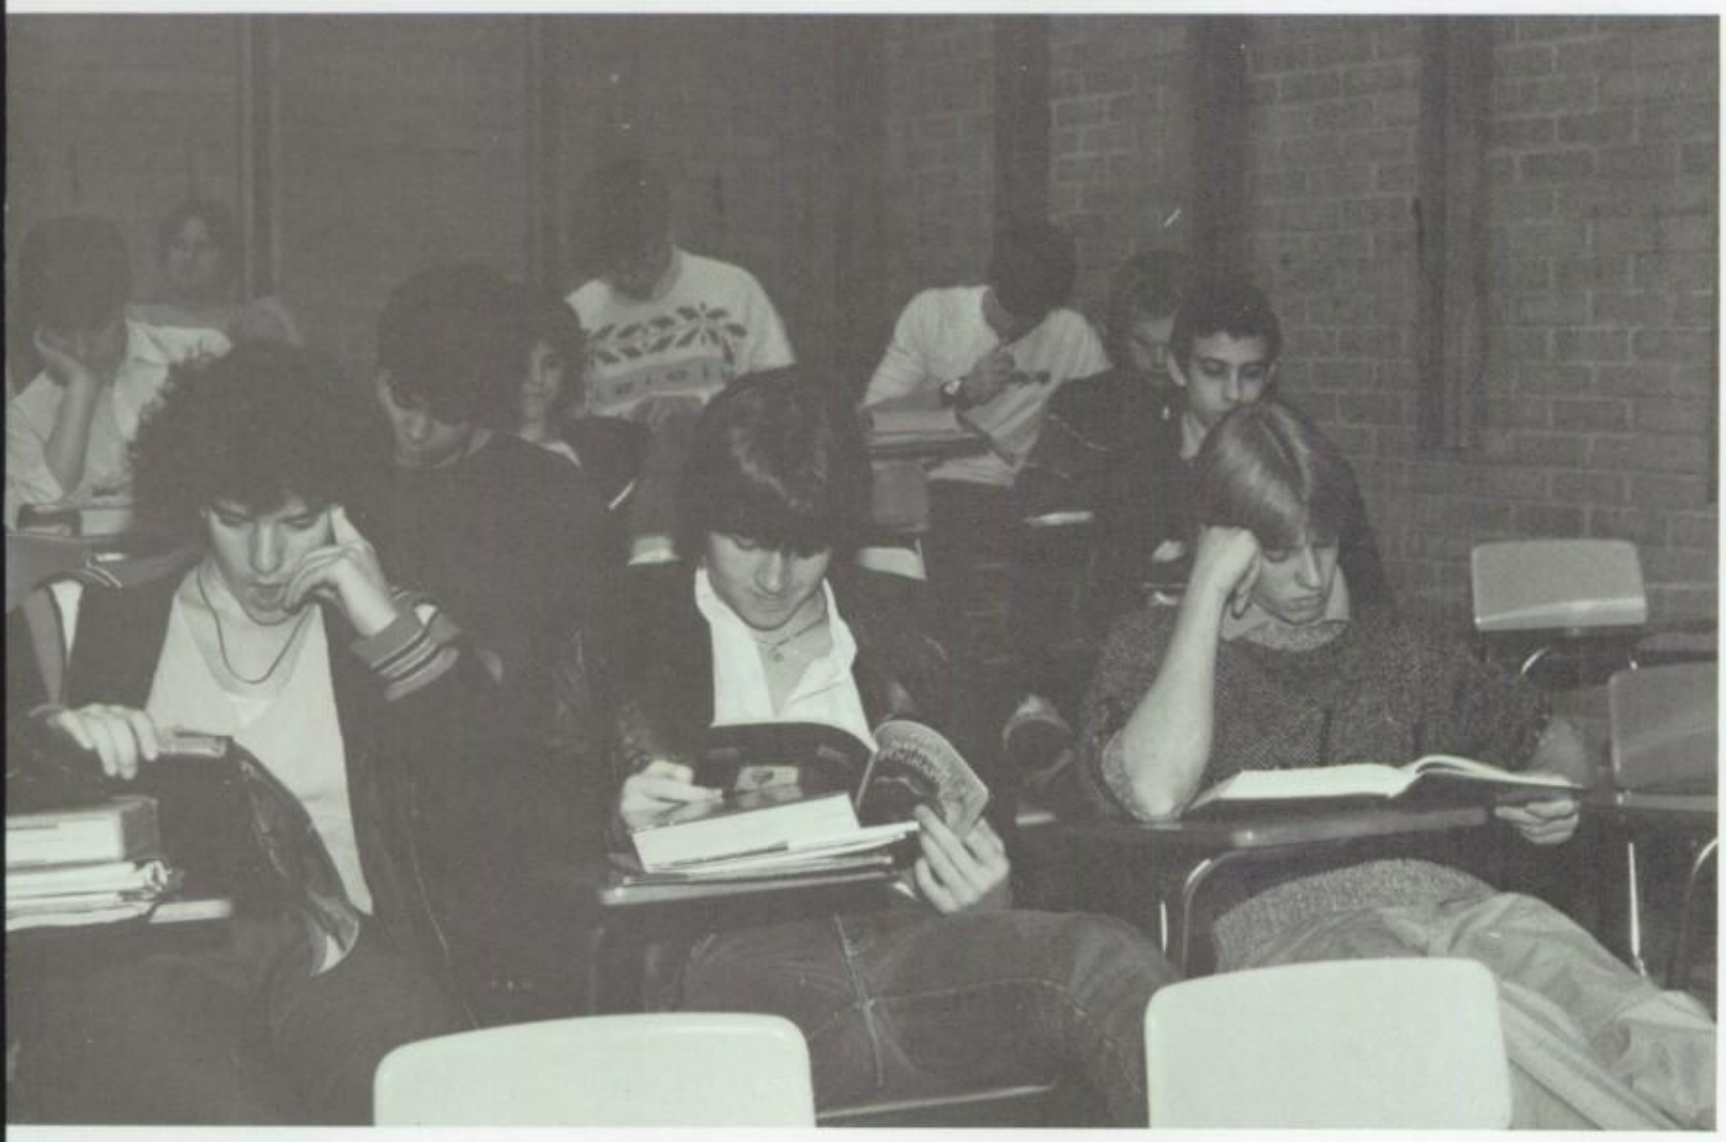
LOUISVILLE GYM



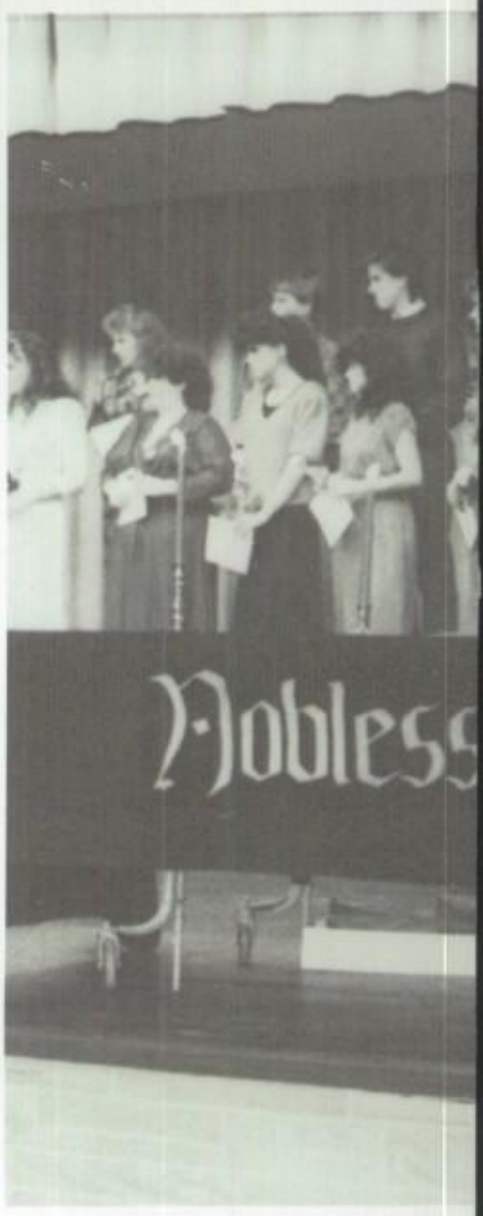
The Joys of 400 Study Hall Since every student has a study hall, it's a good idea to use the time wisely. At least Mike Sadotti, Randy Rusnack, and Mark Ricter think so.

Pizza Anyone? Jim Riccardi looks concerned. Who's going to eat all of this pizza?

Move over tax man. Penny Palombo works out and explains to the class to intricacies of filing a tax return.



NHS inductees- the new members receive their yellow roses and certificates at the ceremony.



Honor group Takes Members

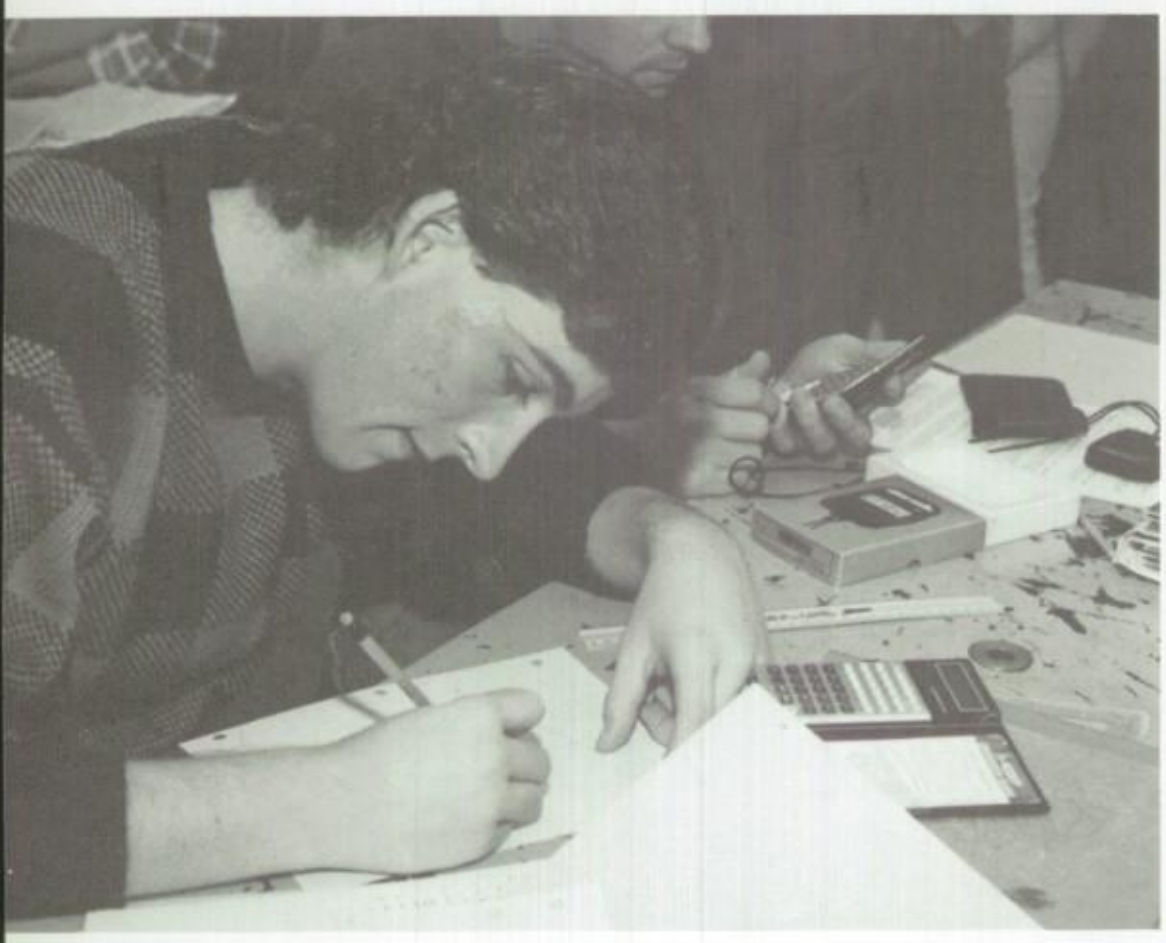
National Honor Society is exactly what its name implies, an honor society. The sudents who are inducted into NHS must meet certain requirements. Service, leadership, scholarship, and character are the qualities that all members must posess. Also these students must have maintained a 3.3 GPA from their high school career. Teacher recommendations are also a major part of attaining membeship into the society. Mr.Bruce Wagner heads the society, which does a series of fund-raising projects in order to award scholarships to deserving members.

Welcome to NHS - Principal Robert Knuth greets all new inductees.

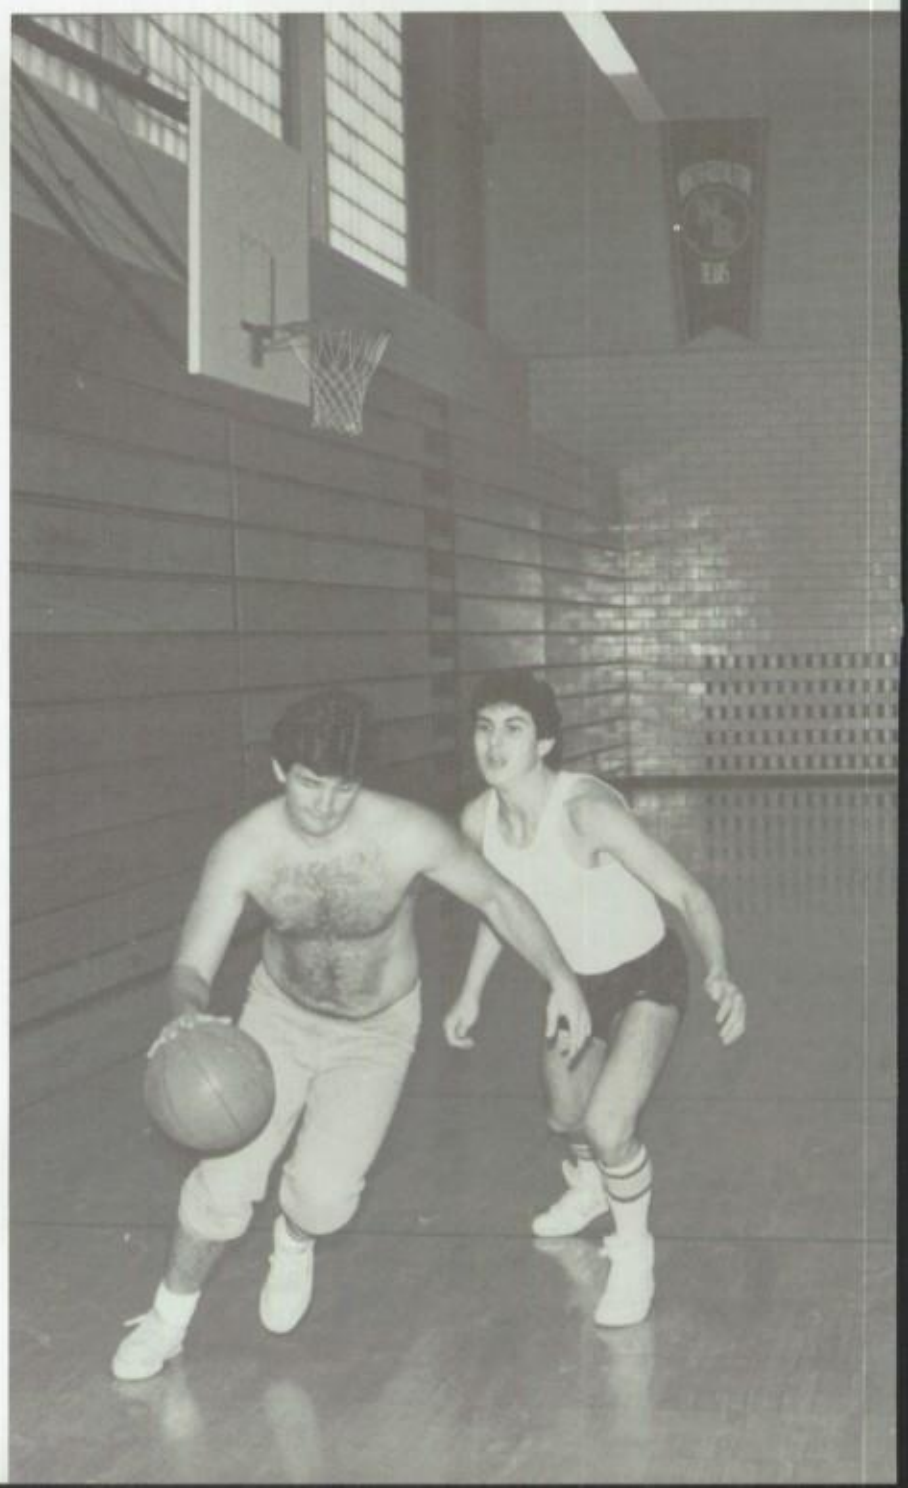
Captive audiance - inductees prepare to sing the alma mater at the fall induction ceremony.

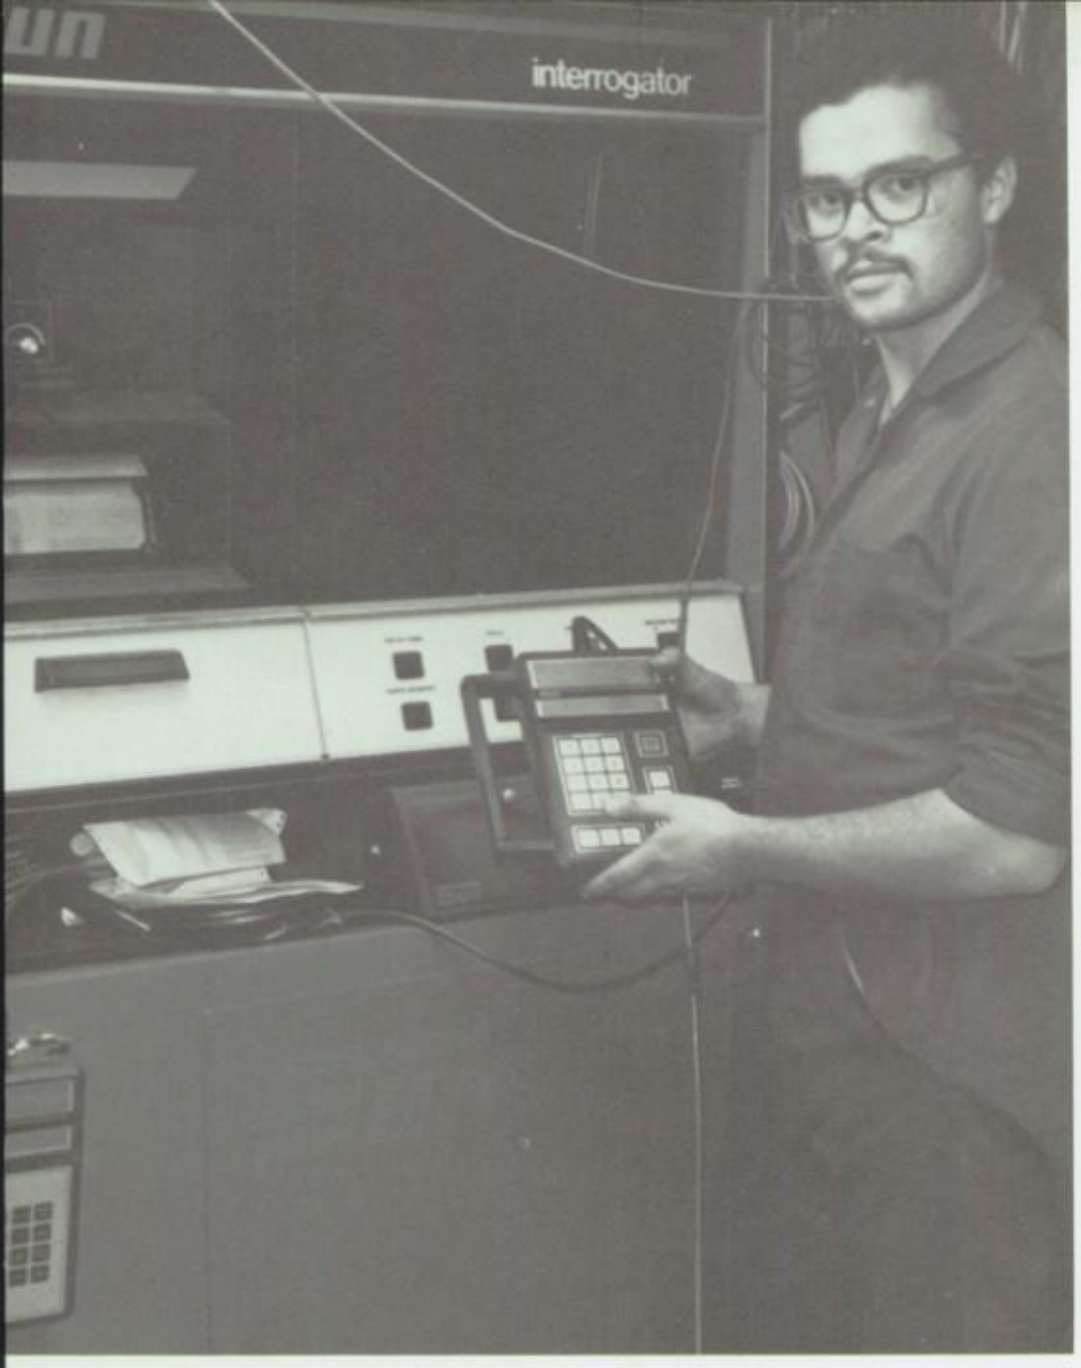
Introducing - the NHS president greets our guest speaker.

Hope this is the right candle - Heidi Dickman lights the service candle at the fall induction.



Cookies Are Ten Cents Jeff Van Arenhem makes sure he has enough money to pay the bill. Then he's going to buy cookies for all his friends.





Life around Midpark

Go for it. Mike Oravits makes an attempt to block Doug Baker's maneuver.

Where's Mr. Wizard? Mix chemicals could be dangerous, but Scott Korhely and Amar Chauhan are very careful.

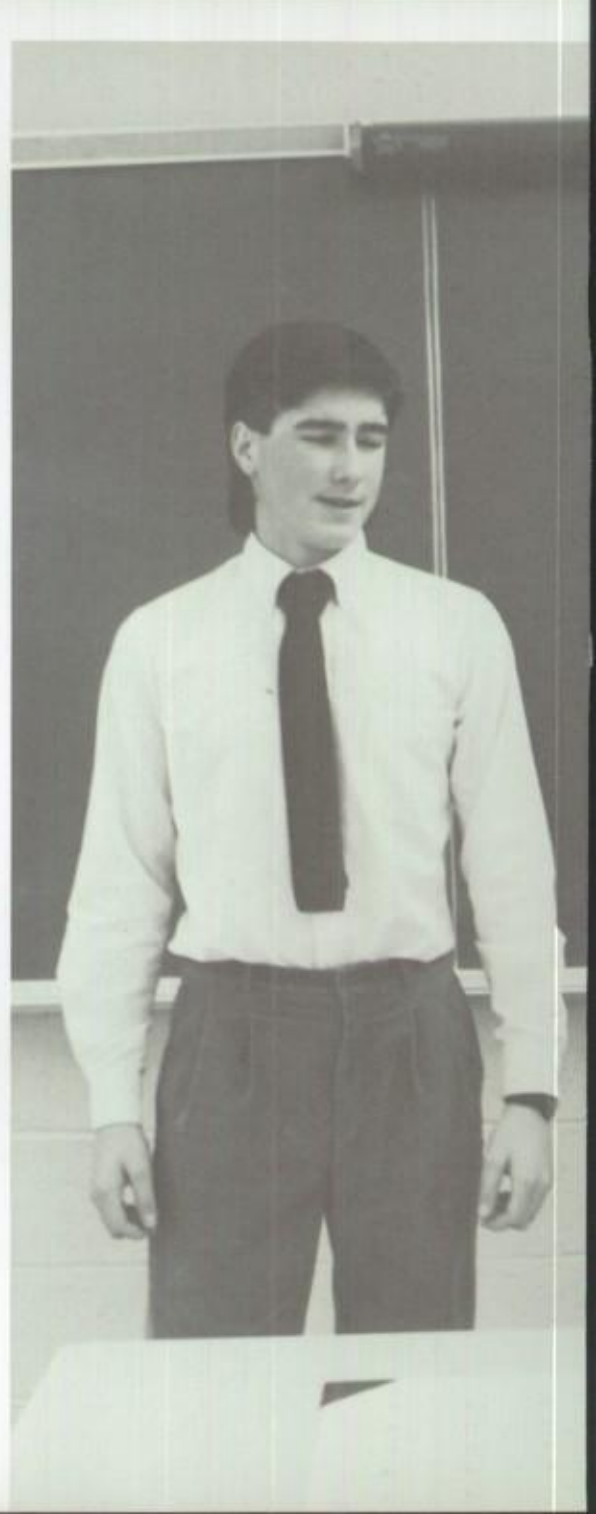
Auto Mechanics Senior Dave Nieves demonstrates the use of the Sun Testing unit, a computerized troubleshooter.

The pause that refreshes. Shawn Campbell, like a famous actor enjoys a cool pepsi.

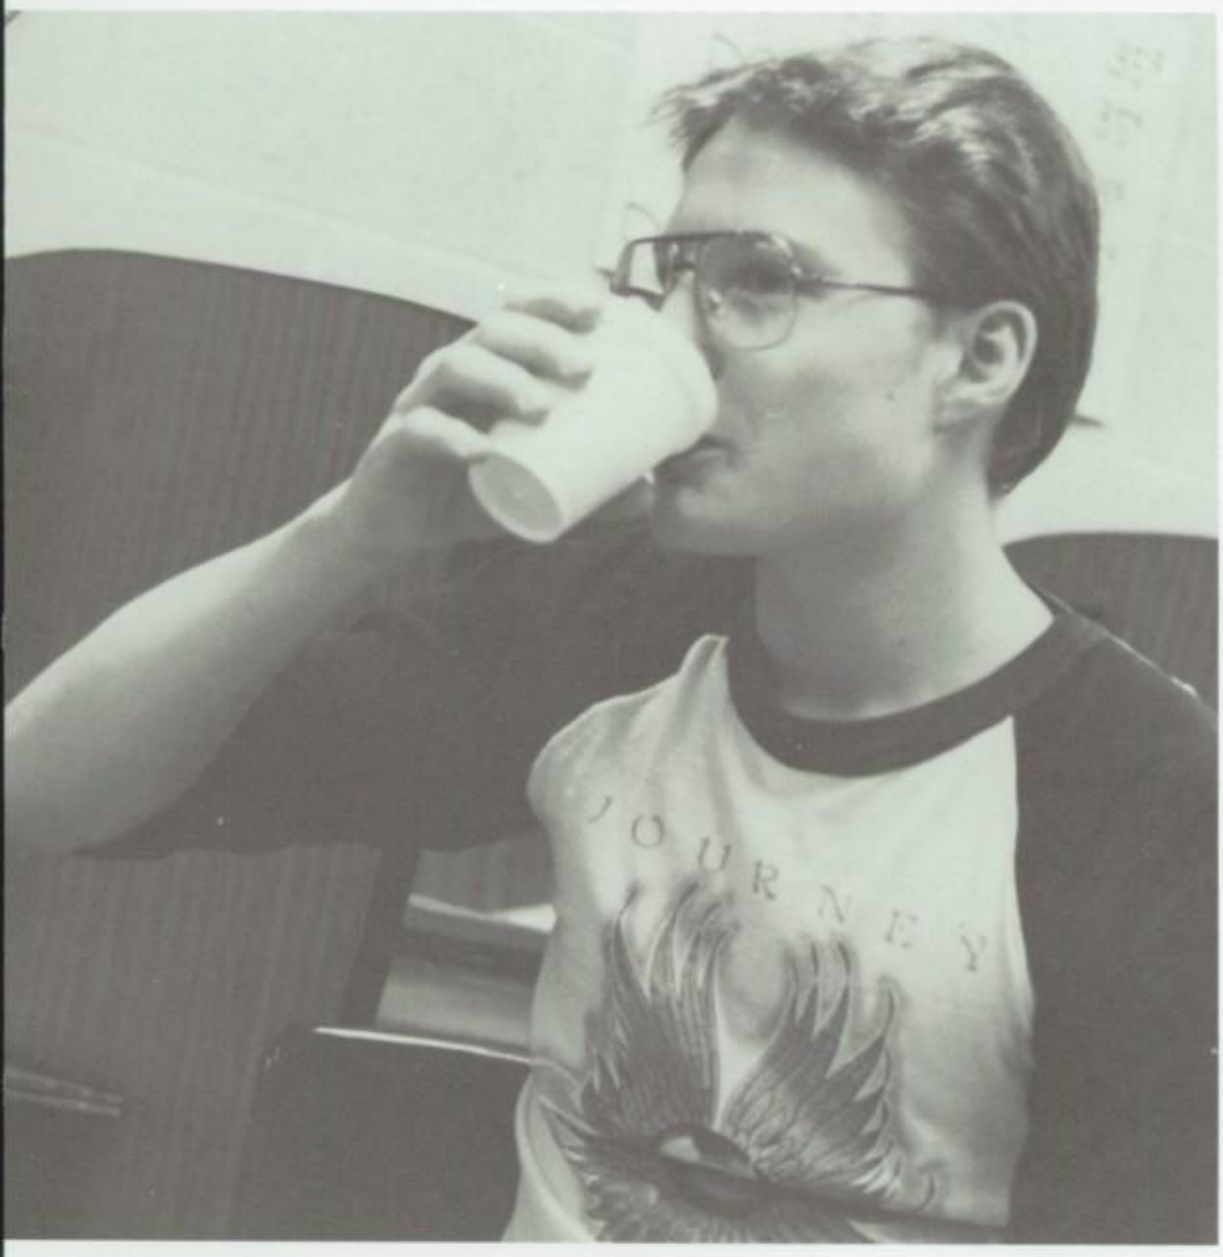
Classic Lisa Gagliardi demonstrates her presentation for speech and debate.

My favorite year. Laura Kehn's smile proves that her senior year is a good one.

To be or not to be. Giving speeches can be scary, but Mike Kovacocy looks cool and confident.



Life around Midpark

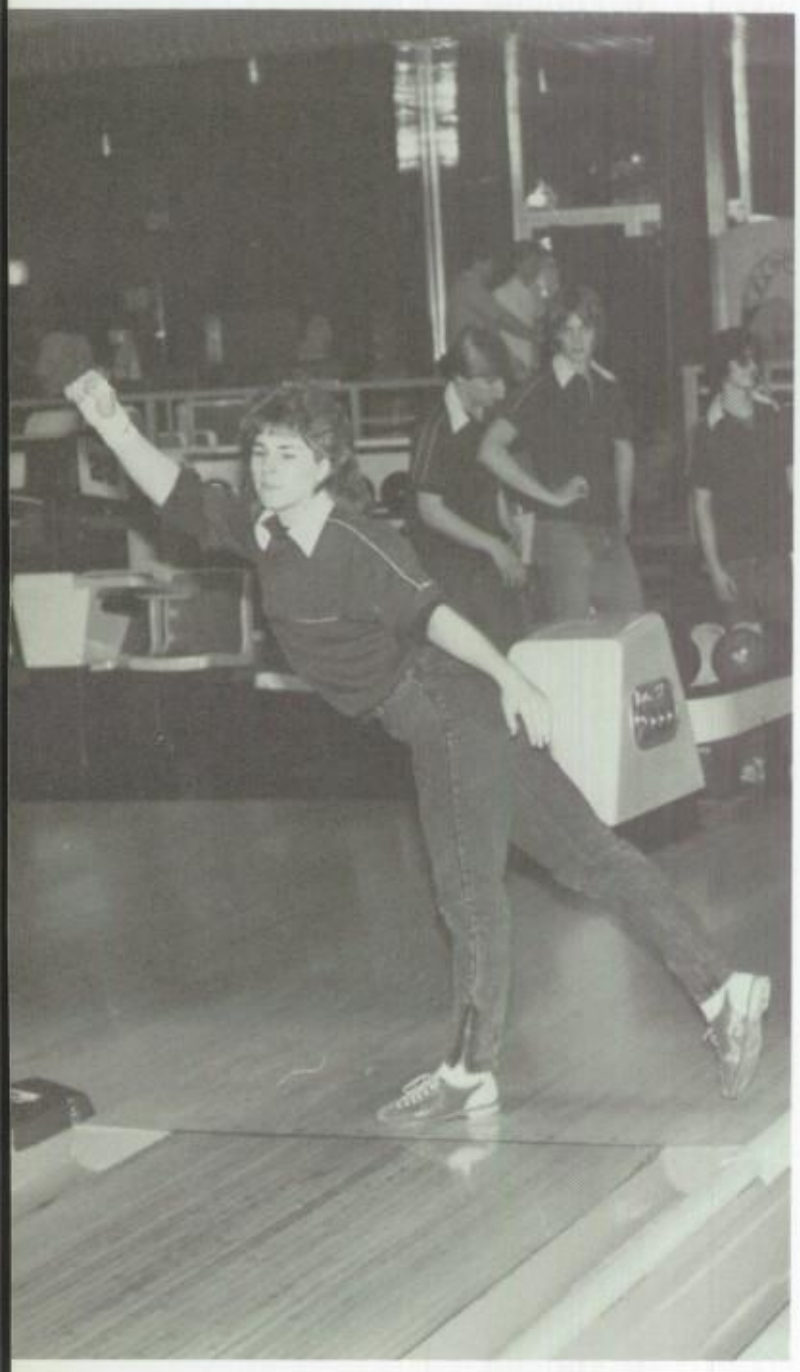


Bowlers have Great Season

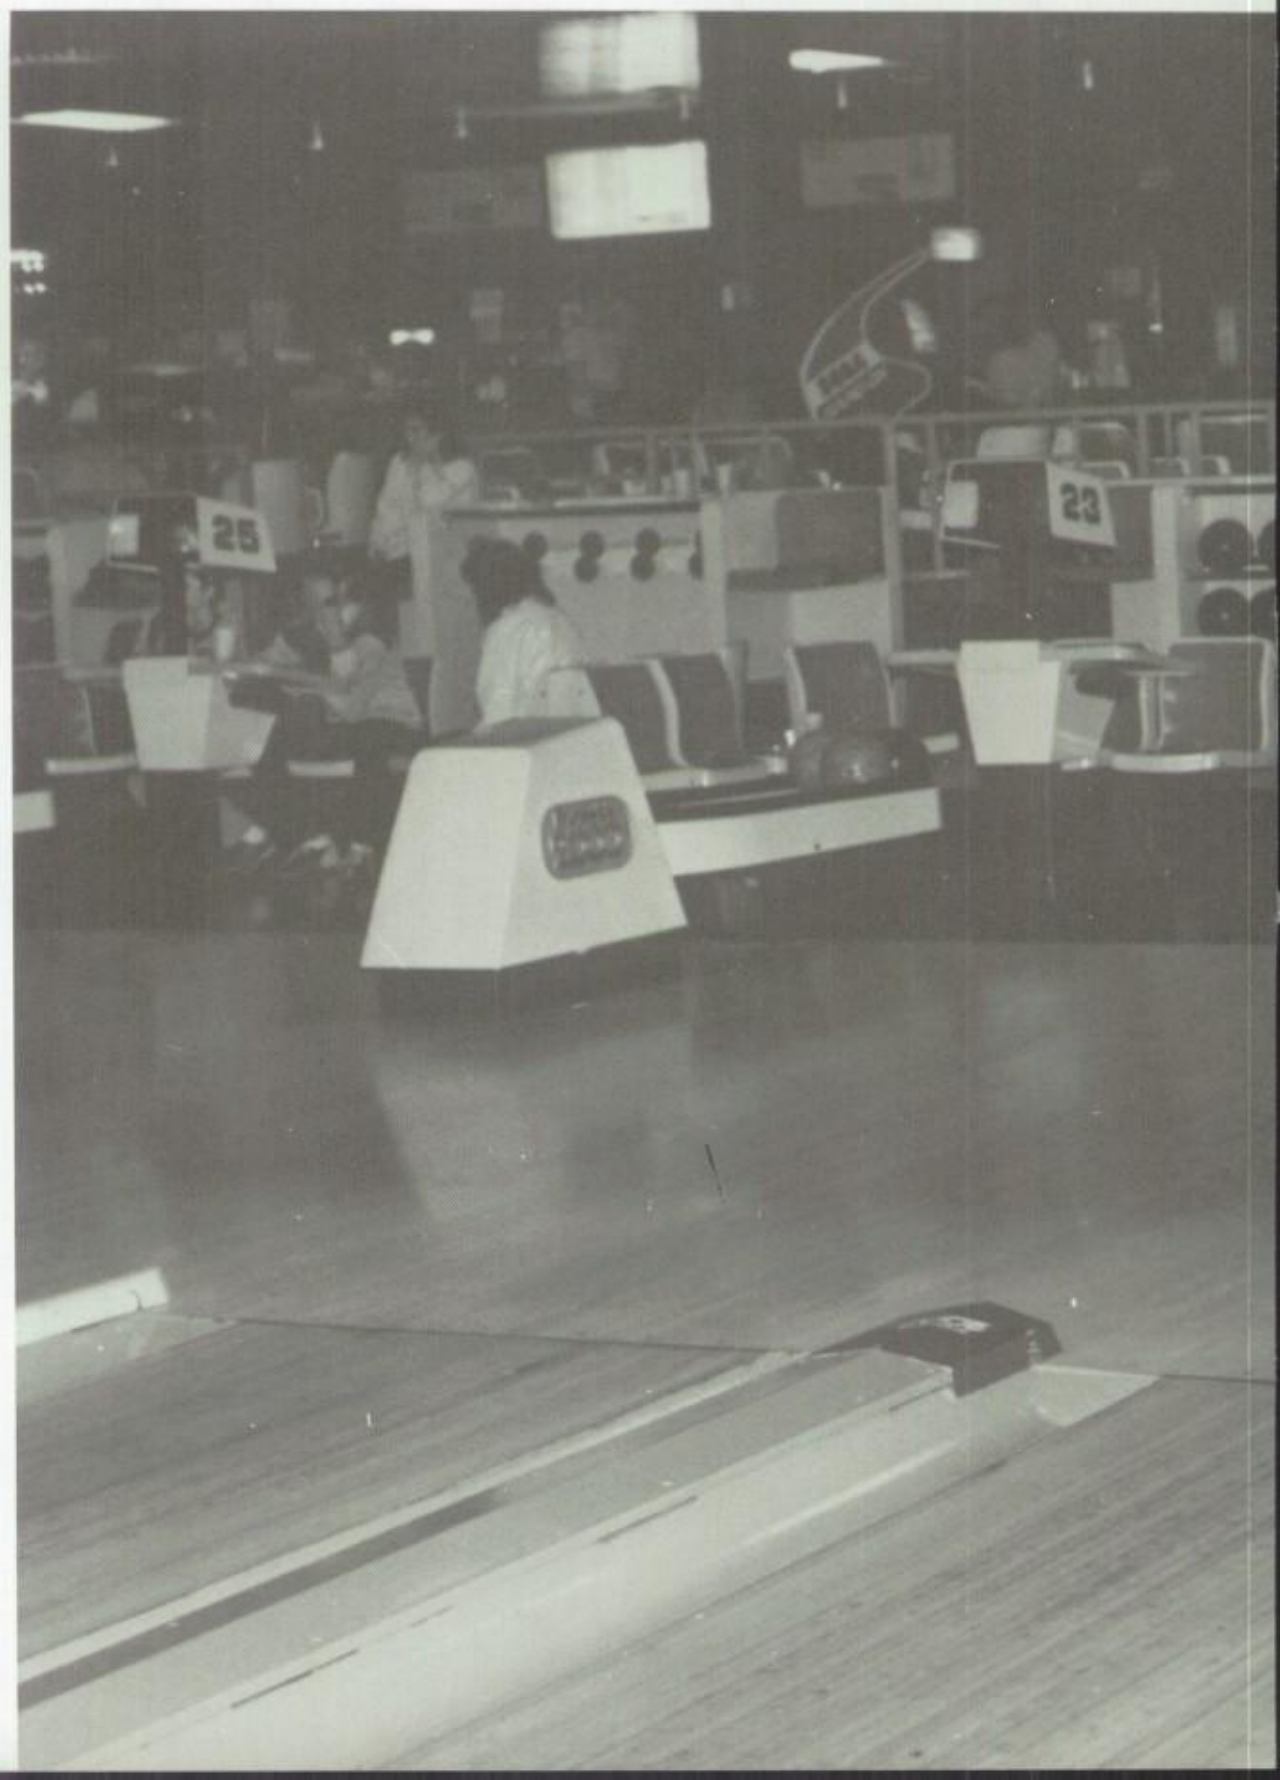
Coach Dan Hronek has only two returning bowlers from last year's team,seniors Elvis Matkovicc and Laura Kehn.

Elvis Matkovic is the teams top bowler. He is also in the league's top tenbowlers. This year's most improved bowler is Bob Yurosko. Mr. Dan says he has a strong young team and he is looking forward to next year.

The 1986-87 Midpark bowling team consists of: Bob Yurosko, Elvis Matkovic, Joe Starre, John Fegan, Jay Franz, Pete Griffith, Laura Kehn.

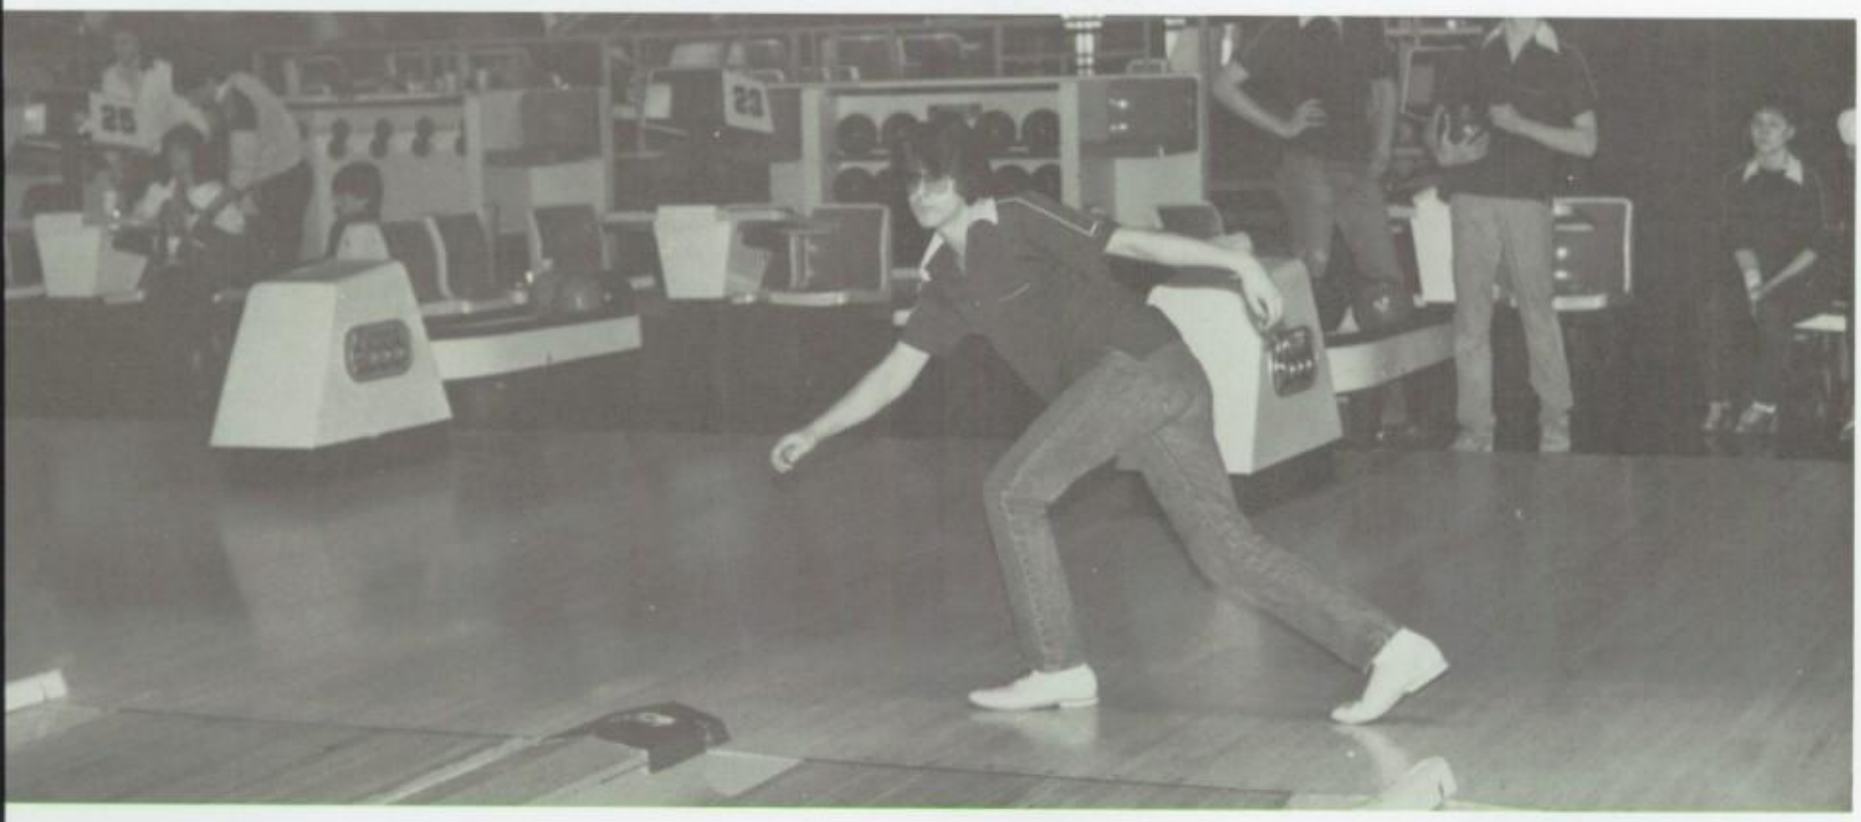


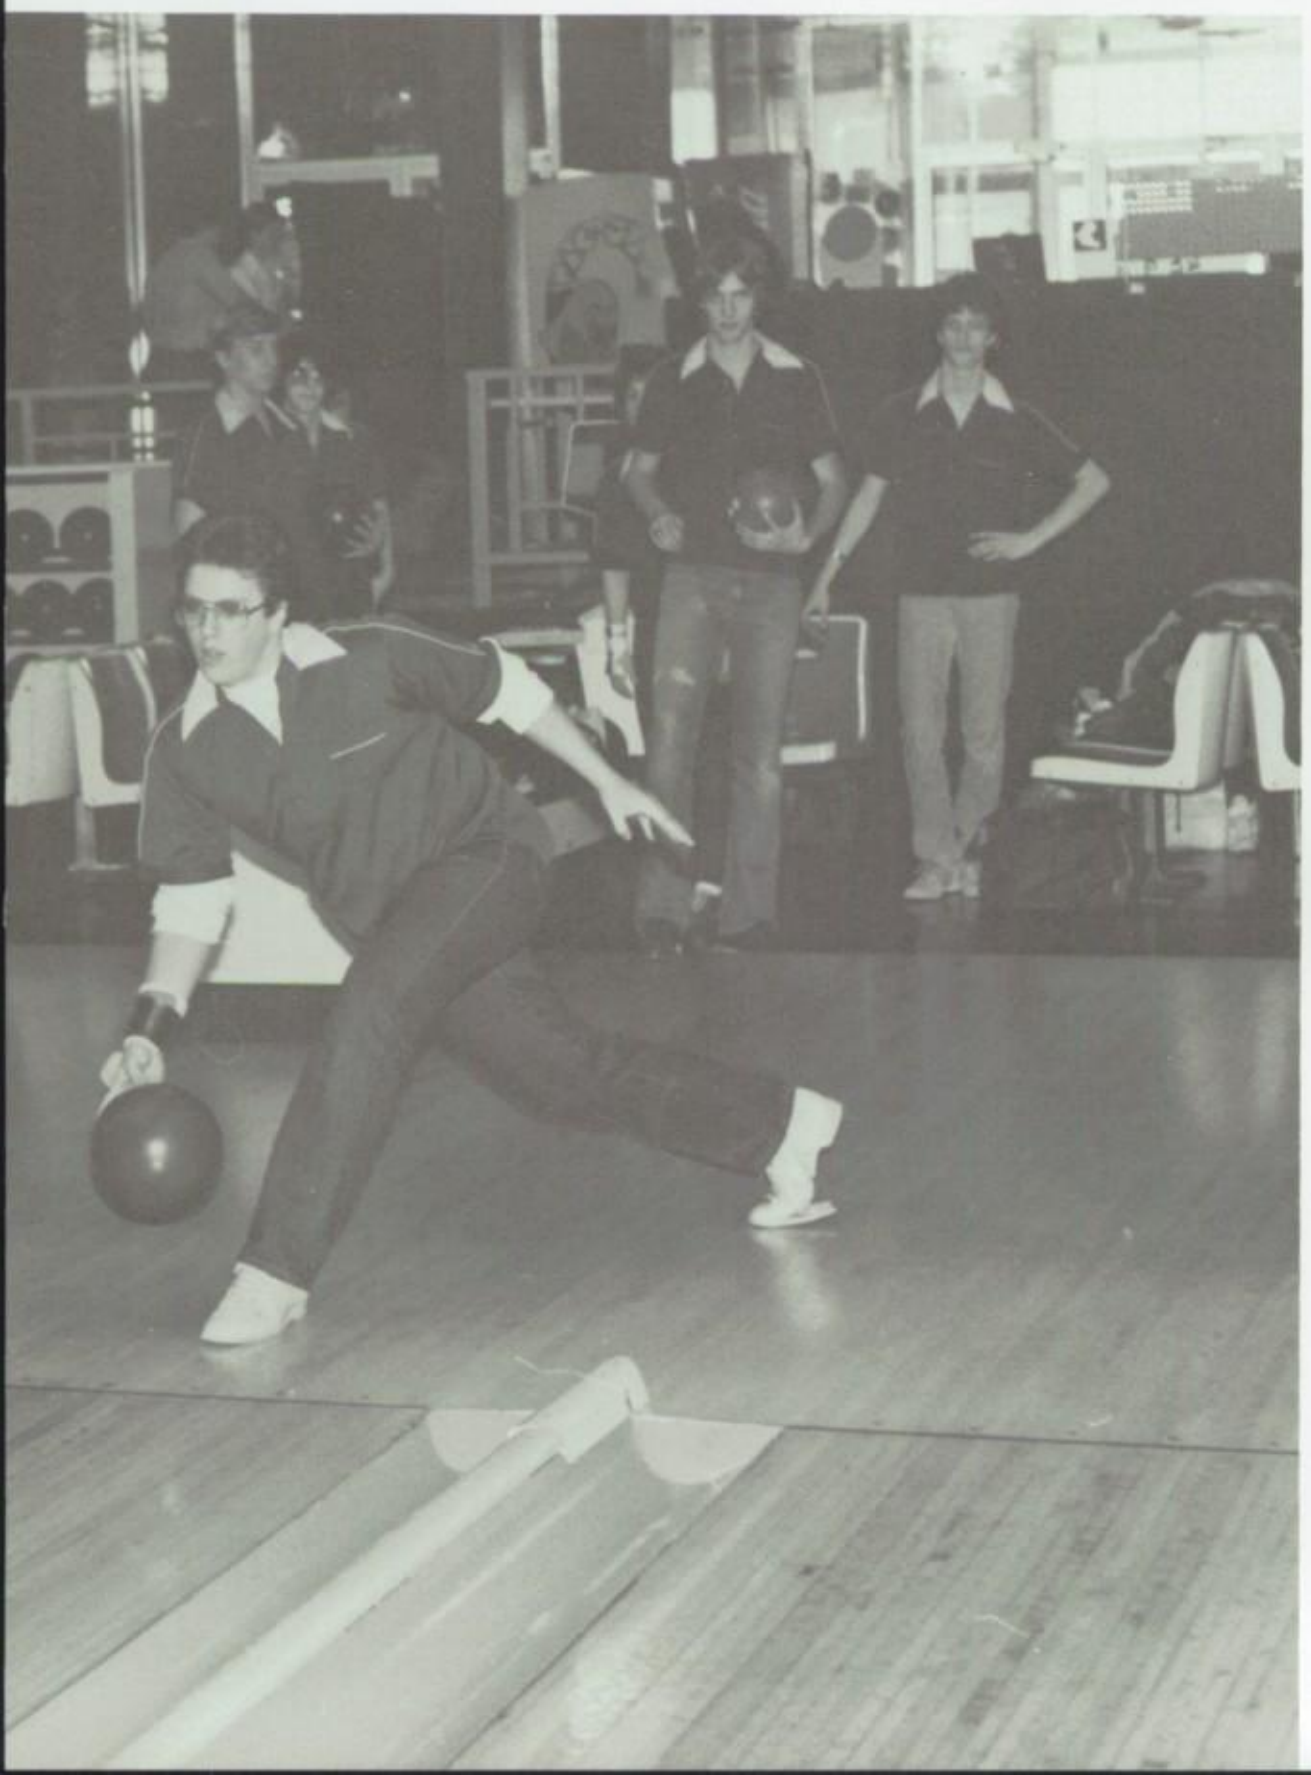
PERFECT FORM is exhibited by Laura Kehn .

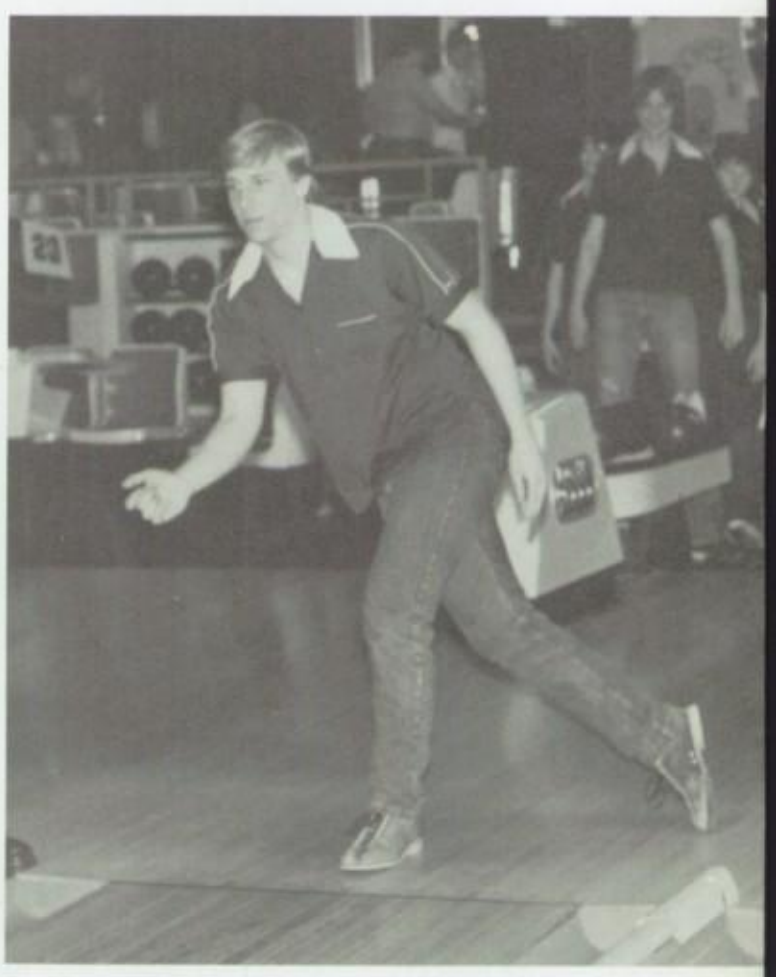


KEEPING SCORE Mr. Dan Hronek, the coach, assures Laura Kehn, and Joe Starre that scorekeeping is important.

A LITTLE TO LEFT John Steffancin is hoping the bowling ball is going the same way.







VERY CAREFULLY John Fegan keeps a watchful eye on the ball.

TAKING AIM In order to get that strikes, Joe Starre knows he has to keep thes ball straight.

Ski Club Hits slopes

Midpark's ski club is having a great year desjpite the weather. Every Monday night, these students attack the slopes of neighboring ski resorts. Although the weather did not bring much snow this season, the Ski Club did travel to various Ohio ski slopes to enjoy a great sport.

Bussing. Every week Midpark Ski Club members head for the slopes. Andy Standfield, Mark Wyler, Dave Zoldak, Sue Gestrich, and Mike Maher are ready to go.

Dressing for warmth not fashion. Jeff Minch is prepared to battle the elements.

The Olympic Ski Team? Maybe not, but Dean Weber, Orlando Ciacchi, and Dave Weber are ready to enjoy the slopes.

Boots Anyone? Even with such a wide variety to choose from, Mark Wyler knows exactly what he wants.

High Fashion. They might not be Gucci's, but Jeff Robertson doesn't seem to care as long as they fit.

It's the downhill racer. Doug Beebe demonstrates his ability on the slopes.

A friendly face from Europe. Midpark's AFS student in the Netherlands, junior Bob Wilson, smiles to show how much he is enjoying his stay.

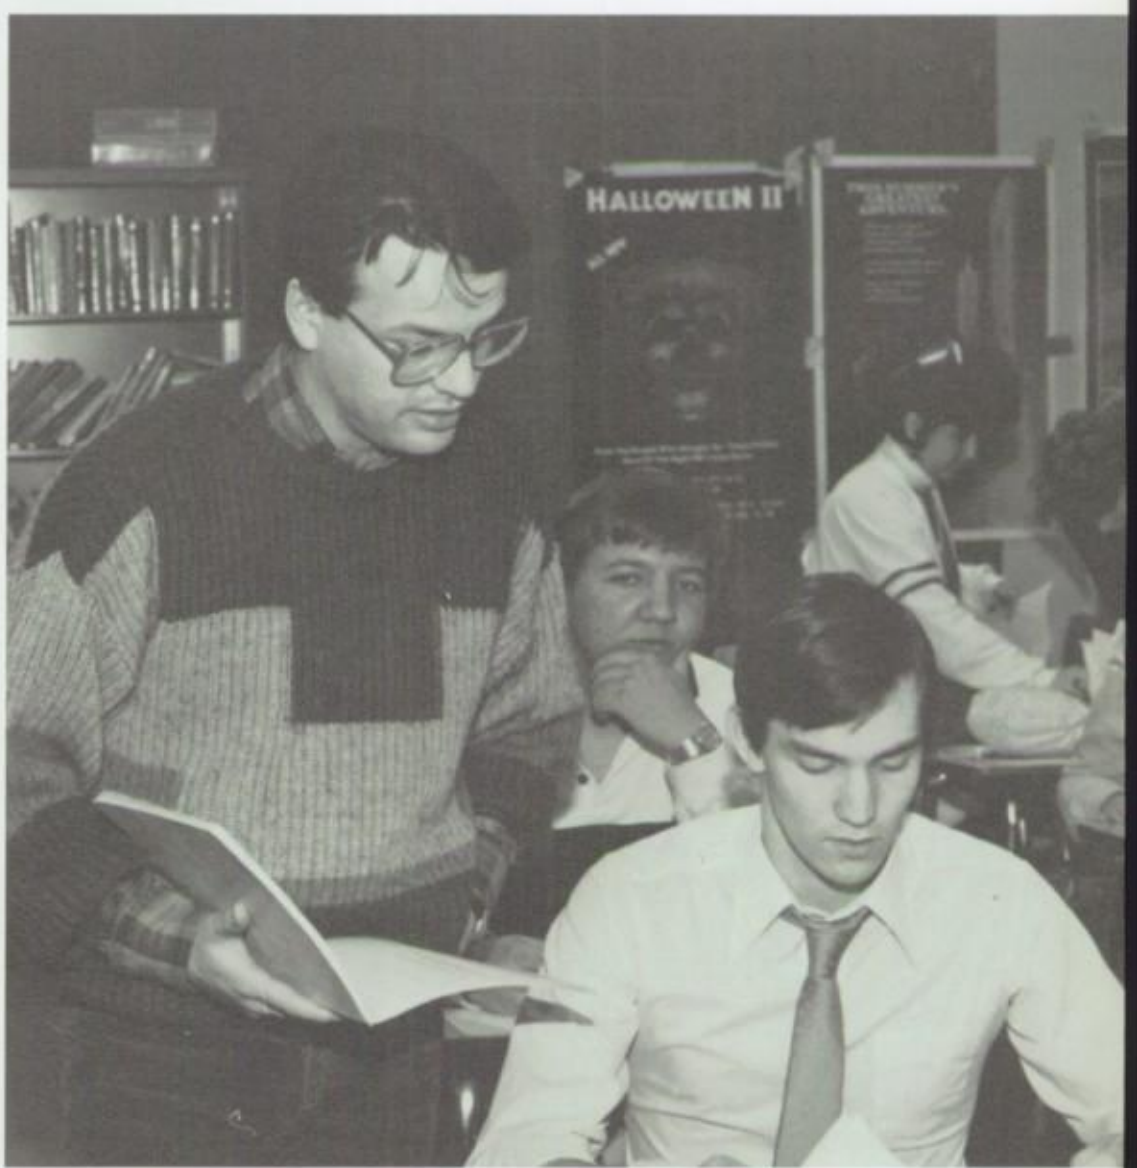
AFS - Home And Abroad

American Field Service is a very worthwhile organization. It provides students with a knowledge of different cultural experiences and, most significatly, new friendships. Each school year the Midpark AFS receives two foreign exchange students. This year Manolo Ortez Mirallo from Spain, and Anita Hauser from Switzerland became Midpark students. Also, Midpark junior, Bob Wilson, spent the 86-87 school year in the Netherlands.

Here at Midpark, the AFS club members hold fund raisers in order to insure a great stay in America for our visitors. In addition, members participate in actvities with other AFS clubs from local schools.

Welcome to Midpark. Mayors Starr and Coyne give Anita and Marrola friendly welcome greetings.

God bless America. AFS students Anita Hauser and Manolo Ortez Miralla get honored at a football game with host families the Millers and the Touseys.



Read that bloody paper! Mr. Duddridge encourages John Pankowski to learn about the literature of England.

Exaggerate those moves. Majorettes give an extra energetic performance at a pep assembly.

Come on you can do it. The rifle line shows what concentration it takes to do a great job.

Hi Mom! The flag line shows off their new uniforms in their sussudio performance.

All that glitters Is not music

If you saw the half-time shows this year, then you expericence the guard line's high quality performance. The members participated in dance classes and extra summer practices to achieve their goal. All their work is justified when they hear the crowds cheering at the games. These girls have proven that there is more to marching band than just music.

Nice job everyone. Majorettes salute Midpark during the playing of the Alma Mater.

Eight is enough. All eight mahorettes show that they can really get into their routines.

Stretch it out. The Drill Team demonstrates one of the many twists and turns during their routime at the pep assembly.

Forensics talks Way to top

The Forensics team had a very good season and participated in nine tournaments. In January, a tournament was hosted by Midpark and the team received many honors. The Forensics team includes,Bob Hetzel, Jim Saiko, and Andrew Stampfel who compete in U.S. Extemporaneous, while Ernest Didea, Mike Kovacocy, and Jenny Hawks are involved in Foreign Extemporaneous. Ellen Dergan, Gayle Gallowitz, and Quang Nguyen participate in Original Oratory, with Tanya Arlow, Tami Rettig, and Steve Vans presenting Oratorical Interpretations. Dramatic Interpretations were given by Lisa Gagliardi, Dennis Graham, and Tina Selvaggio. Jim Rikard specialized in humorous interpretation. Prose and Poetry areas included Sandy Kowalsky, Greg Kula, and Julie Volansky. Sophomores Fran Herlicky and Jenny Delarosa were paired in the duet acting category.

After participating in the district tournaments at Brunswick, and in Youngstown,Ohio, three students went to the State Competition at Cincinati, Tanya Arlow, Lisa Gagliardi and Julie Volansky. Coaches Vicki Balzer and Karen Krause were very proud of the team's accomplishments.

Life around Midpark

In 1986, Midpark hosted Lipstick, a new rock band from the Cleveland area. Lipstick also had a special interest in Midpark since two of the band's members are former students, Donna Coss and Rick Palencar. It was a great coming home concert. The concert was initially inteded to be a fund raiser for various student activity groups. But because of a few general protests, the ide of a fund raiser was dropped, and the administration allowed the students to have a free concert. On November 27th, the band performed for the student body. The band consists of four performers, Donna Coss on keyboards, and the band's founder, Jet Williams on guitar, Lynda Ferns on bass guitar, and Rick Palencar on drums. Donna Coss got the band together after two years of ads in Scene Magazine and the Akron newspapers. Finally, the band can begin looking to the future. According to Donna, the band's favorite song is, "I want to be with you tonight", currently rated number 22 on WMMS.

Just a Beginning

This year the fresman class had an excellent turn-out at their annual dance. The class of 90 displayed enthusiasm, and spirit as they celebrated their first of many dances. The dance was well organized proving that the freshman class has a lot to offer Midpark.

Slow dancin'. Dancing the fast ones are OK, but Steve Voss and Chrysa Gaydos also enjoyed the slow dances.

Key Club Keeps image

Which group at Midpark High has over 140 members and has raised thousands of dollars for charity? It's the Midpark Key Club. Last year's award-winning Key Club was thought to be a tough act to follow, but, with this year's increasd enthusiasm, it looks as if new heights may be reached this year.

It all began with summer activities including a car wash, rib burn-off, trips to Mohican State Park, Cedar Point, and a very competitive car rally. The annual kick-off meeting began with many activities to follow throughout the year: handicapped swim, game-a-thon, bloodmobile, zone training, band spectacular, balloon sales, canned food drive, park clean-up, interclubs, debate tournament, model program, dance setups, and other social events.

The club looked forward to this year's 38th annual district convention held in Cleveland. Midpark's leadership consisted of president, Tammy Reinprecht; vice-president, Greg Zak; secretary Jim Riccardi; and treasurer Jeff Van Arnum. Further recognition to other Midpark Key Clubbers in other offices is due to District secretary-treasurer, Burke Lashell, and International Trustee, David Richardson.

One of Midpark's two A.F.S. students comes to us from Switzerland. She is Anita Hauser from Zurich, the biggest city in her country. She said that Zurich is nothing like Cleveland. Zurich is old, with narrow streets and small buildings and in Switzerland, only 15% of all students are allowed to go to high school. While at Midpark, Anita is taking such courses as Math Analysis, American Literature, Chemistry, French 4, and cooking, which is not available in Switzerland. She is also involved in our A.F.S. chapter, Key Club, and Ski Club. When asked what her favorite part of America was, Anita said, "I love American food, especially chocolate chip cookies."

Midpark's other A.F.S. student this year is Jose Ortiz, more commonly known as Manolo. Manolo is from Linares, a city in the Andalucia region of Spain. Manolo said that school is much different in Spain than here. There, the students do not change classes, the teachers do. Also, they have weekly class schedules, not daily ones. While her at Midpark, Manolo is taking a variety of courses. He is currently enrolled in Physics, Chemistry, Computers, Math Analysis, Speech, Government, and U.S. History. Manolo's main extracurricular activity is A.F.S., which along with his school work, keeps him busy. Manolo's comment on America was this, "At first I thought the people didn't like me because of your different ways of showing friendship."

Last July, Midpark's own David Richardson was elected an International Trustee of Key Club International at the groups' convention in Phoenix, Arizona. As a Trustee, David is on the Executive Board and he is Chairman of the Finance and Membership Committee. David is also responsible for counseling the Ohio and Pennsylvania districts and he represents them to Key Club Internaional. Some of David's achievements at his home club at Midpark include being voted outstanding sophomore and junior member. He was also sophomore class director, had the most man-hours for the last two years, and he was president of the club last year which earned him the Ohio District Outstanding Officer Award. David's position requires him to travel often, but he still finds time for his studies. He is currently taking A.P. European History, Honors British Literature, Honors Government, and Advanced Physical Science. David is also Vice-President of the Midpark chapter of N.H.S. When asked to comment on his year, David said, "Key Club has taught me a lot. Being Trustee has allowed me to meet people form all over the country. It will definetely be one of my most enjoyable high school memories!"

During Easter break, 50 girls converged on Houston, Texas for the U.S. Modern Miss competition, and Midpark's Tina Selvaggio was one of them. Earlier in th year, Tina went to Columbus where she was crowned Miss Ohio Modern Miss. In Houston, she was judged on her academic achievements, civic achievements, a talent contest, and a personal interview. After all this, Tina came out of the competition as fourth runner up. Tina is also very involved in activities at Midpark. She is on the senior class executive committee, student council, she is enrolled in Midpark Magic and she is chior president. Tina is also in Key Club, N.H.S., Drama Club, and Forensics. Last fall, Tina was also recognized by the Optimist Club of Middleburg Hts. for her success in school. Tina is involved in out-of-school activities also. She is a cantor at St. Bartholomew's Church and vounteers her time at the Tri-City Senior Center. Midpark can be very proud of her achievements.

One of the driving forces behind this year's varsity football team was Jim Sowinski, and Midpark is very proud of Jim's achievements. He was the leading scorer in the Greater Cleveland area, most valuable player in the Pioneer Conference, nominated to play in the North-South game, and he was mentioned in "U.S.A. Today" for his preformance in the Avon Lake game. Even with all the work Jim had to do for football, he still found time to keep a 3.6 G.P.A. while taking such courses as Calculus, Honors Government, College Composition, and Physics. Jim has also been recognized for his participation in the Midpark tutoring program and he is a member of N.H.S. When asked to comment on his achievements, Jim said, "My accomplishments this year wouldn't have been worth while if I didn't have special people to share them with, and I'm thankful that I did."

Happy Valentines Day Mrs. Etta Rowe received quite a treat from her husband on Valentines Day. Her own Limo, for the day, with her chauffer of course.

The Montage Page

Silver Edition Of the MONTAGE Makes its debut

The 1986-87 Silver Editon Montage is a collection of memories that span the past twenty-five years of Midpark's history. The book presents the laughter, the tears, the innovations, the dedication, and the progressive programs that make up Midpark High School. Even though some of the old traditions are gone, as well as many staff members, there are many new programs being kept alive by a qualified, dedicated, and experienced faculty.

Likewise, we have been very fortunate to have a group of very dedicated student each year who have been very helpful in preparing the yearbook. This year, this group includes Monique Rabic, Lisa Brooks, Patti Micklovic, Dee Crawford, Sophia Stames, Doug Beebe Mike and Jason. I would also like to thank my classes for helping me identify the names of students for the vast amount of pictures in this year's yearbook.

For all of the students who offered their assistance, I thank you. It has been a pleasure working with you. A special thank you to my "super advisor" and colleague, Ed Wolff.

Rudi Simon

INTER-COLLEGIATE PRESS, a division of Herf-Jones Incorporated, printed the 1987 MONTAGE in Mission, Kansas. John Fowley served as company represenative assisted by Fran Nagorny, Larry Stock, and Julie Bogart. This book, the Silver Anniversary Edition of the MONTAGE, is printed on 80 Westvaco Matte, smythe sewn, rounded, and backed. The cover is brown leatherette embossed and foil-stamped in silver. Endsheets are 65 vellum cover stock. The Senior Section is printed in four color.

Special sections include a twenty-five year pictorial history of the school with events current to each year of the school's history. Also included is a listing of school athletic records, championship teams, and All-Americam athletes. Pictures not taken by the MONTAGE were secured with the cooperation of Yvonne Blackman, Associated Press-World Wide Photos, NYC, and Sally Fisher, Royal Color Studios, Berea.

For the past twenty-three years I have been involved with yearbooks in twety-one of them - nineteen at Midpark. Yearbooks have changed from the simpledays of group shots to exotic photjournalistic publications. The Montage has tried to stay "middle of the road" through all of this. From 1968 to 1987, the price has risen a modest $.50 a year, with the exception of this year's special edition. Staffs have changed from a classroom of students willing to spend as much time as needed to produce a book, to the present when yearbooking is stuck in between other extra-curricular activities. The Montage of today is produced on state of the art equipment, with computer hookups with the plant in Kansas City.

Photojournalism has taken me many places, on the sidelines of the Browns, on the baseline of the Cavs, as team photographer of the Cleveland Nets of World Team Tennis, in the studio taking portrait pictures, manager of a photo studio, literally hundreds of weddings, and workshops and seminars throughout the State. Many of my former editors have gone on to do the same in college and work within the framework of photojournalism in industry. I have enjoyed being associated with them.

I wish to thank the five or six staff members, mentioned above, for their help in producing this Silver Edition. I would like to say thank you in a special way to Jill Muran, Lisa Martino, Tina Schuller, Renee Zimmer, and the rest of my Consumer Math class, without whose special help this production would still be in the office. A another special thanks to Bill and Rudi, and John Fowley, from ICP, for all their help and support -- and my family for all the mess during deadline time.

Times have changed, values have changed, priorties are different. Photojournalism still excites me, however, to paraphrase the words of the Master, The spirit is willing, but the body is growing weak. Maybe, perhaps down the road a bit, maybe. . .
